SCHOOLTIME

We come to school to learn about a truth
we can meet and witness. In searching for it
we find a common bond which ties us together with more strength. Our teachers help us to discover these truths through gentle persuasions
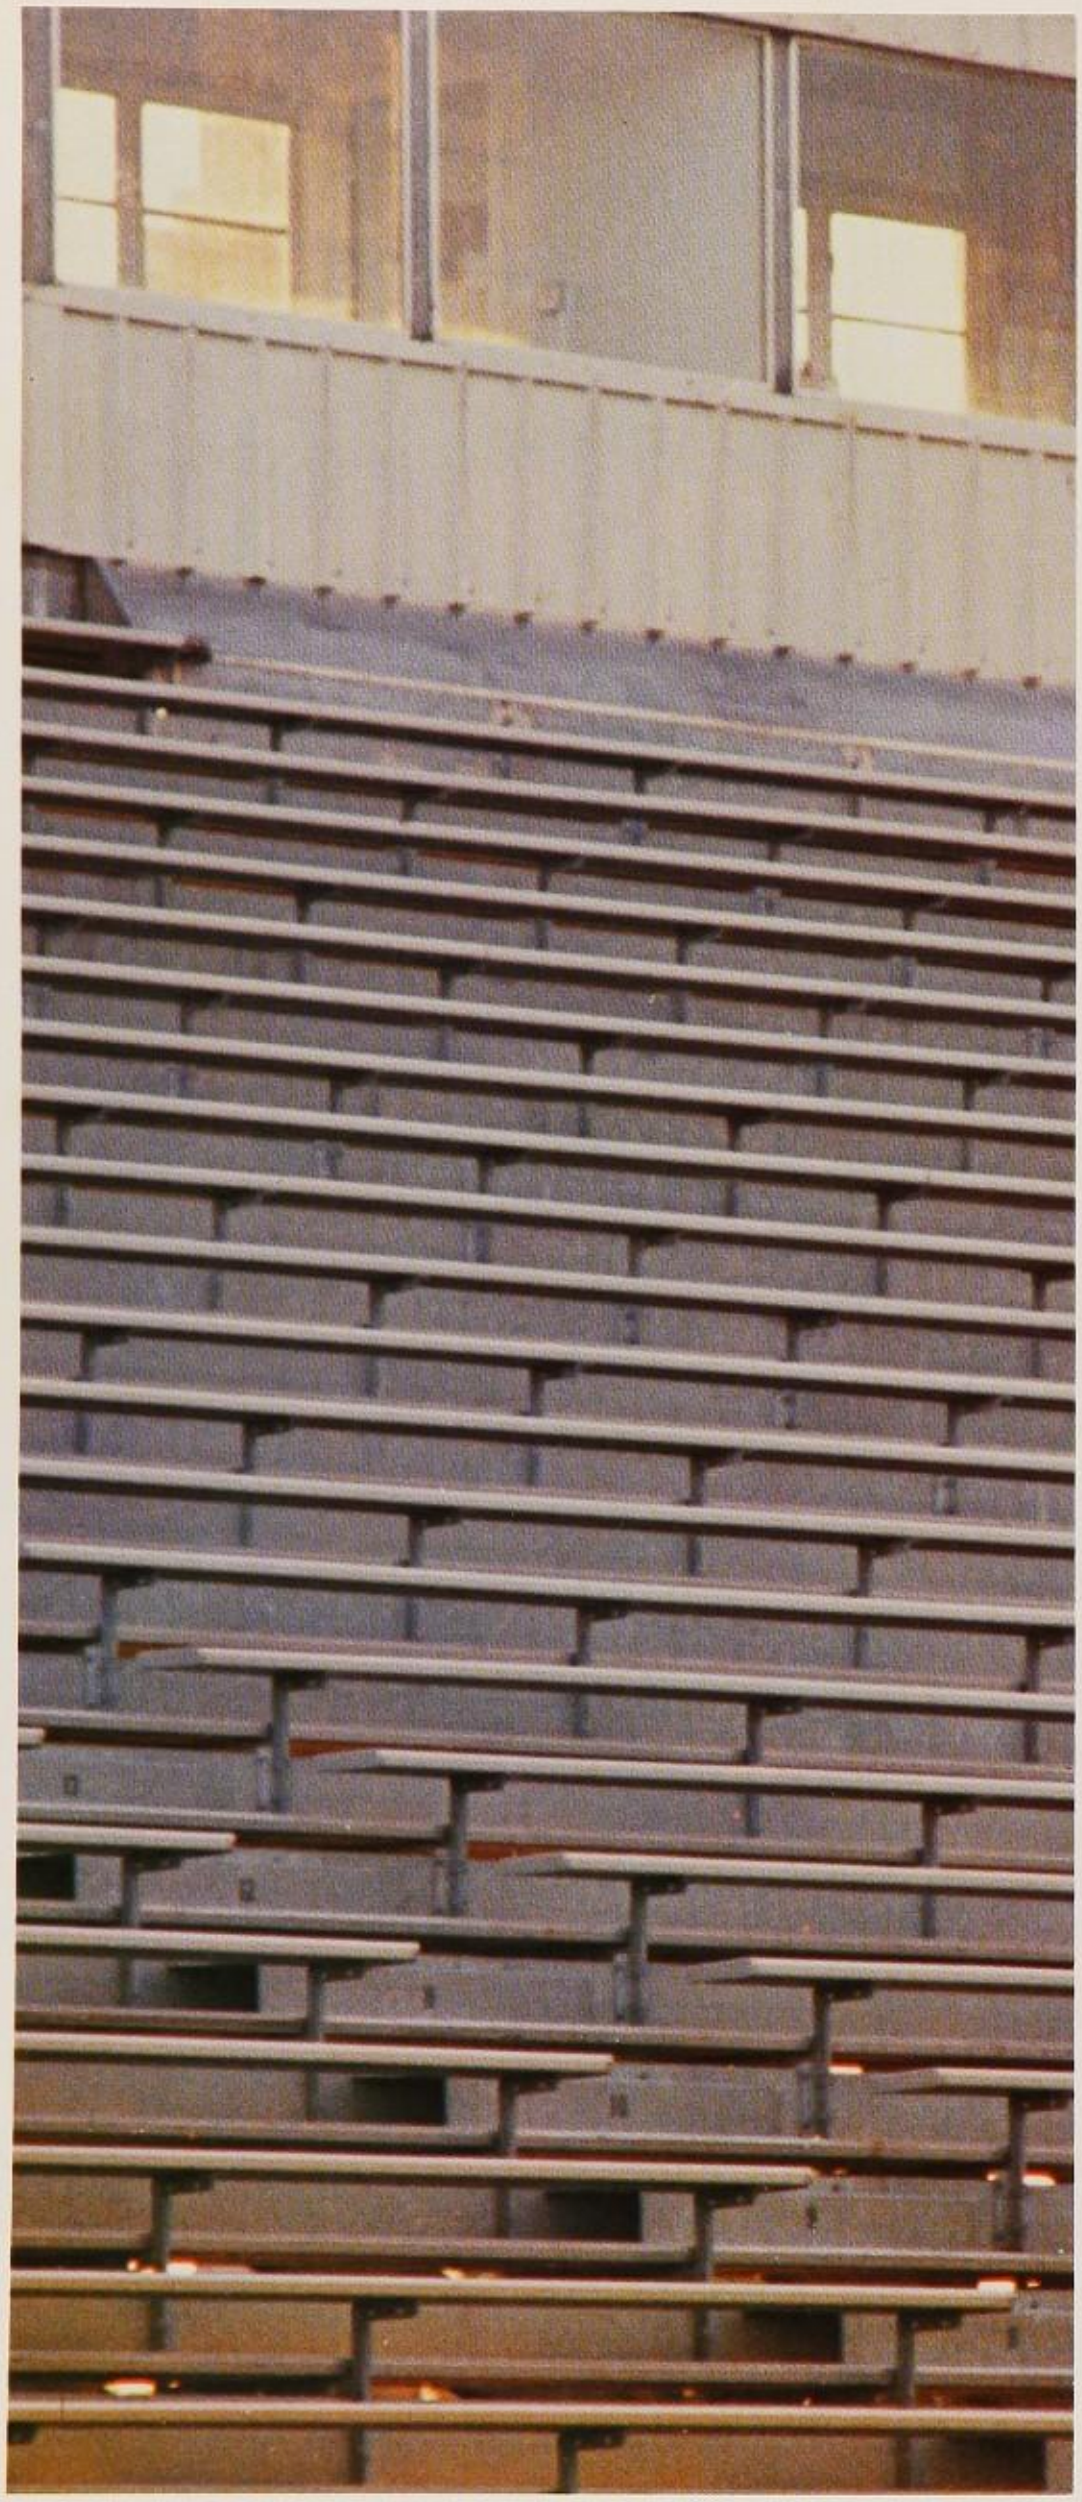
and guidance, but most of all,
we help each other
by caring enough to give our time.



The bleachers of Tamiami Stadium.

Jeff Griffin worked for the Campus Life Haunted House during Halloween.

During their P.E. class, Letty Diego and Mercy Suarez sit in the bleachers waiting for their teacher.

During her trip to California, Ellen Stone shows her political preferences for the year.

EDITOR'S TIME

A yearbook is a unique publication in that it is highly pictorial in nature . . . everyone knows that pictures can pack a terrific wallop . . . it is personal and it is permanent. And, it is used time after time as an instrument of education because it can inform both students and adults of significant issues and problems in a manner and language that they will accept, and never forget.

Coral Park students filled Tamiami Stadium's bleachers and showed spirit and support for team.

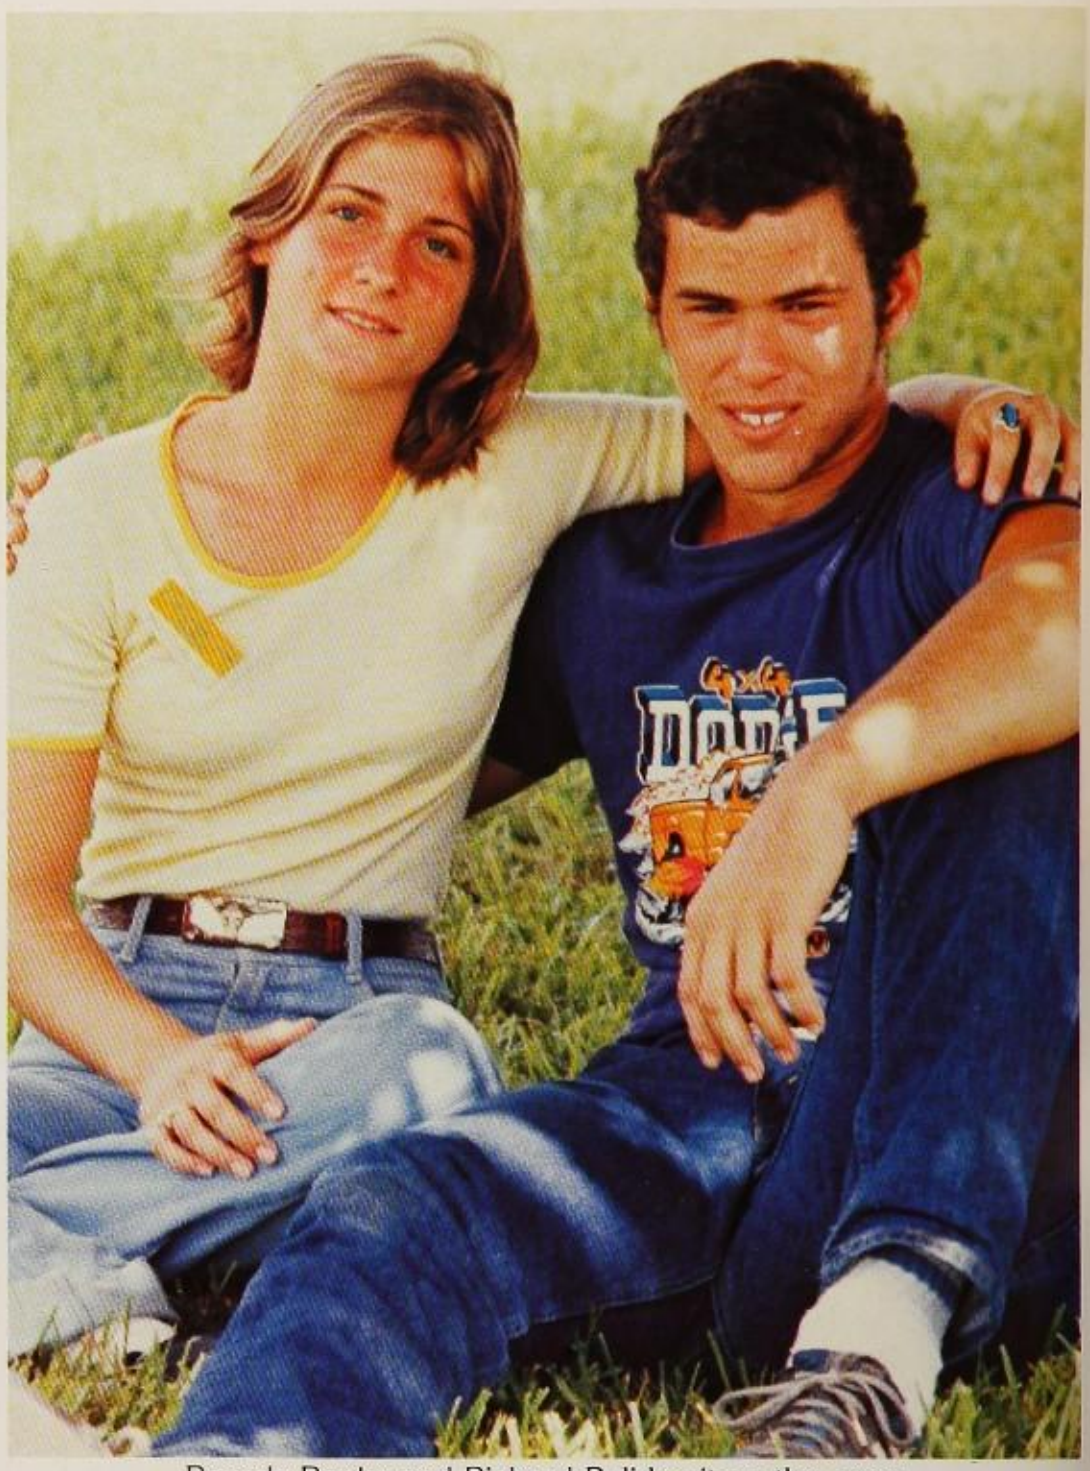
FACE TIME

You can believe there is such a thing as a typical Coral Parker until you get to Coral Park. But a day or two of observation proves the infinite variety of its student body. From such a wealth of types, the unique gift of Coral Park to its people is its almalgam of varieties. We have the freedom and the opportunity to be fully and vividly ourselves.

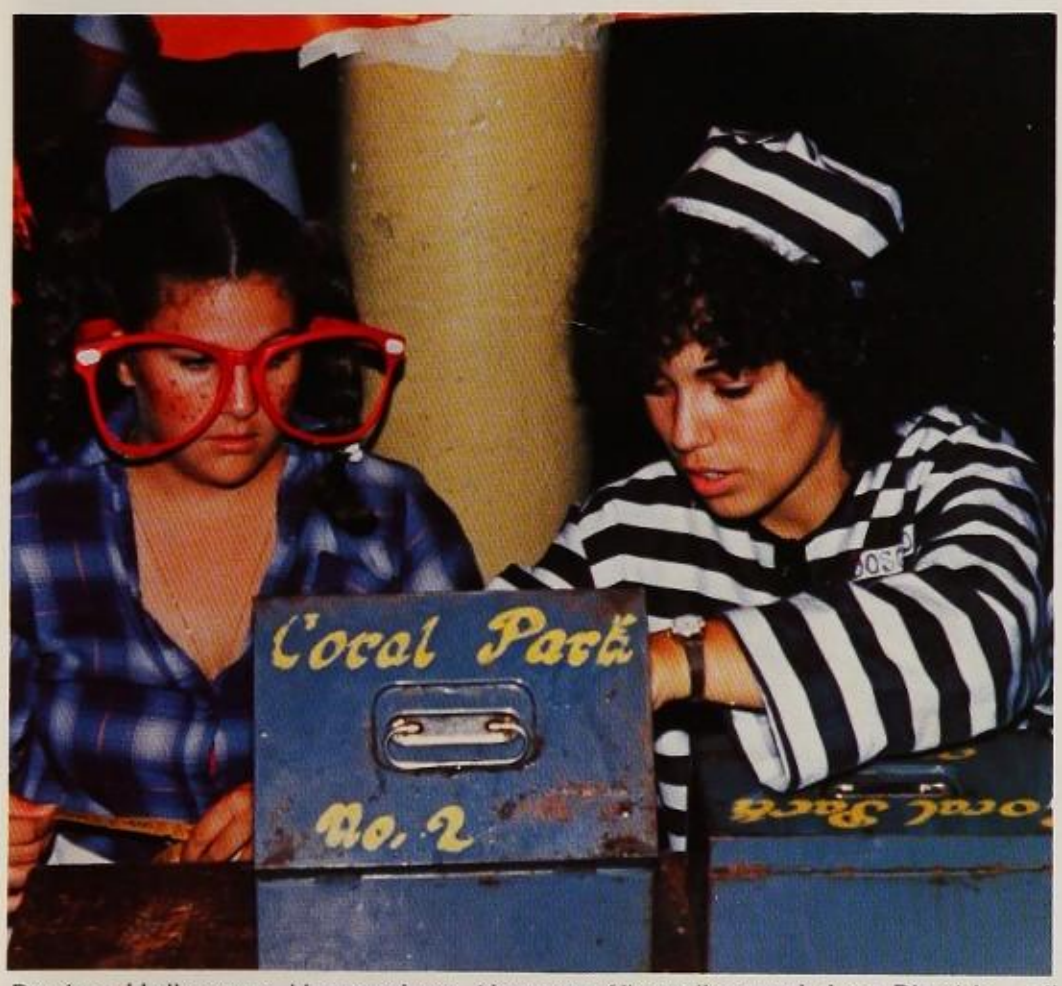
Showing the spirit of wearing their class of 81 t-shirts, Carmen Cotto and Eva Preston smile at each other.



Beverly Banks and Richard Pulido sit on the grass after having lunch.

On a sunny day while studing during lunch, Orlando Garcia and Maritza Caula lay on the school lawn.

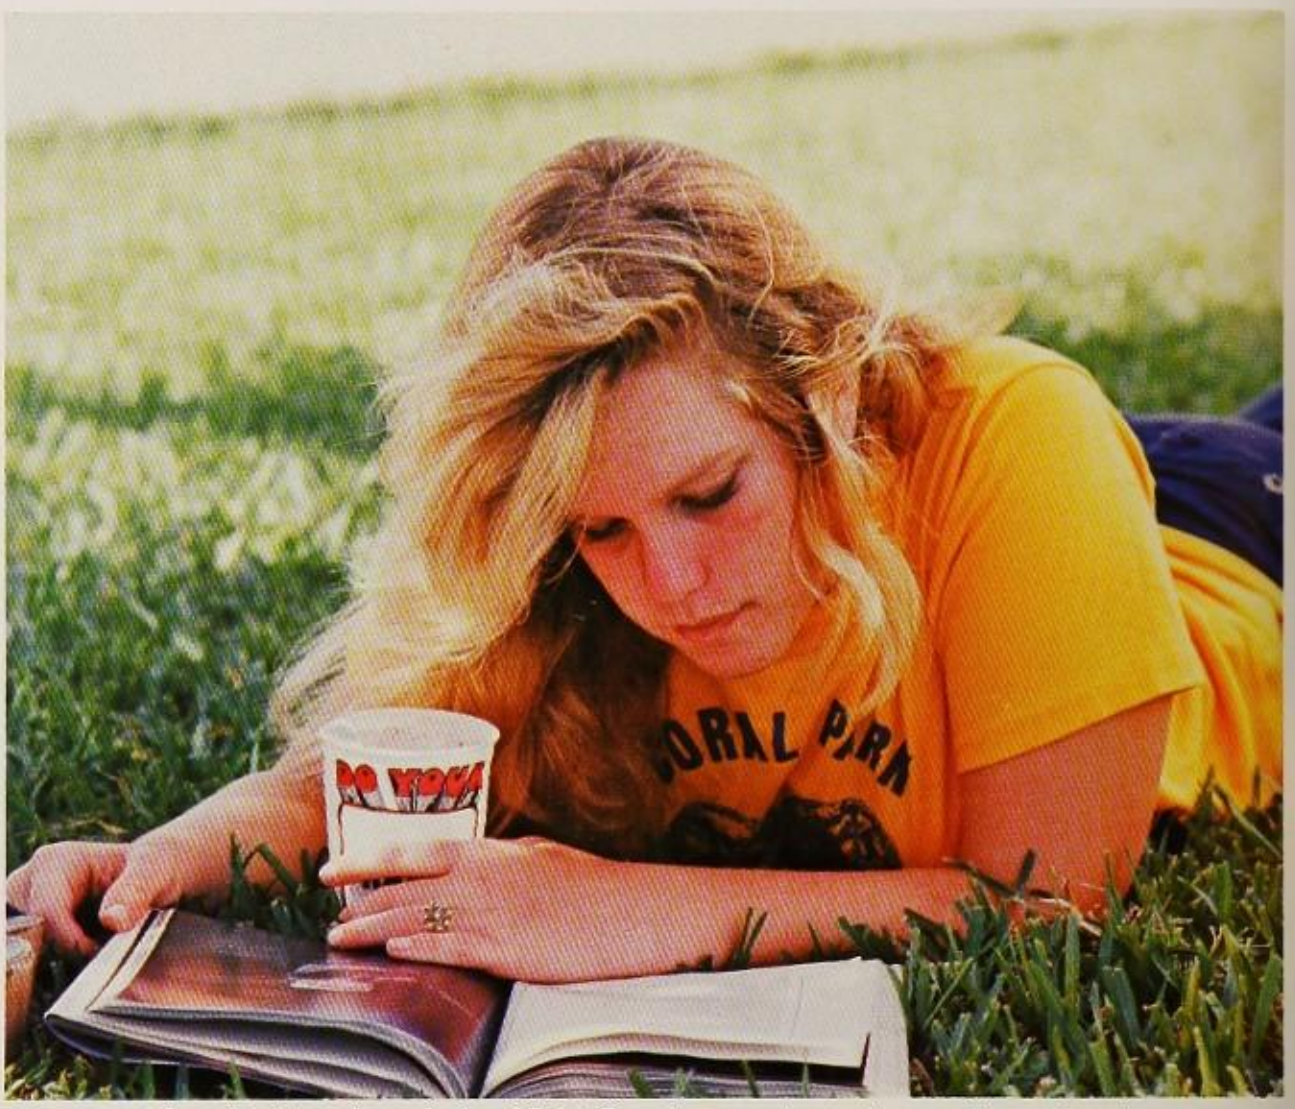
Sitting down in front of the gym Alfonso Morales, Lorna Garcia, Maria Gonzalez, and Rolando Gimenez discuss what happened during the day.



During Halloween Happenings Carmen Chevalier and Ana Pineida sell tickets for their booth.

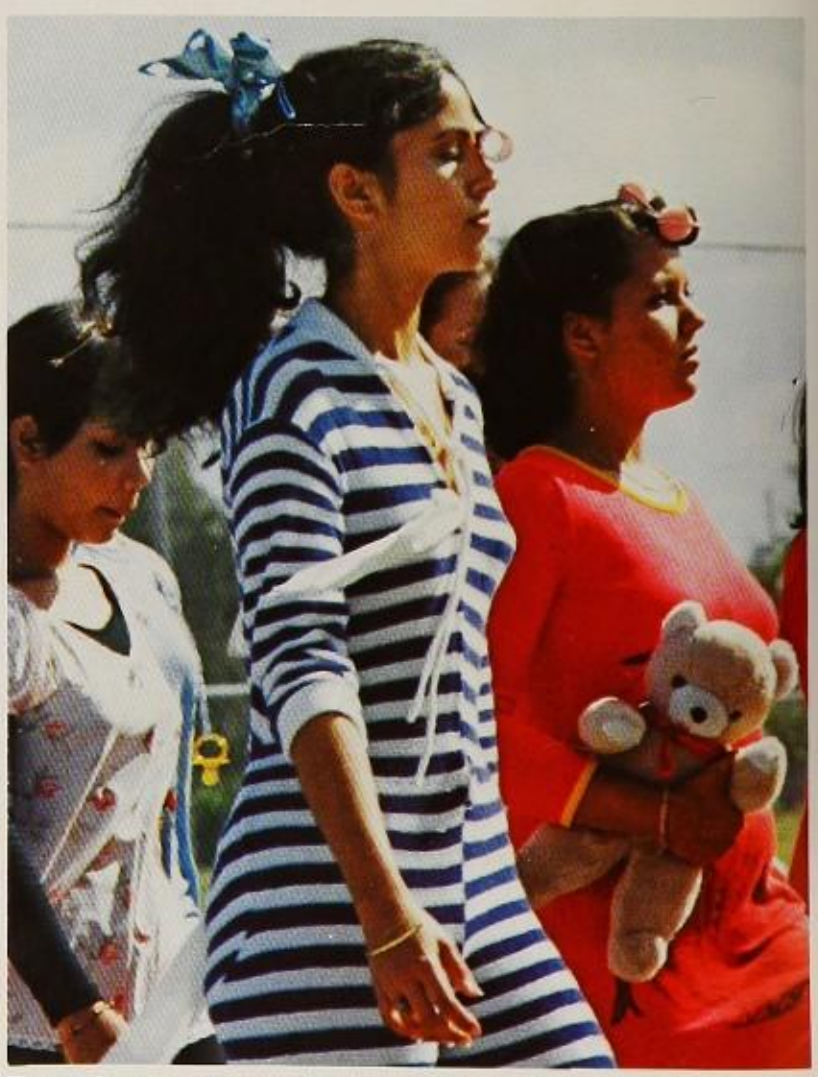
TIME TOGETHER

Having time for friendship made the year worthwhile. School is where our social life began. We made time for that.

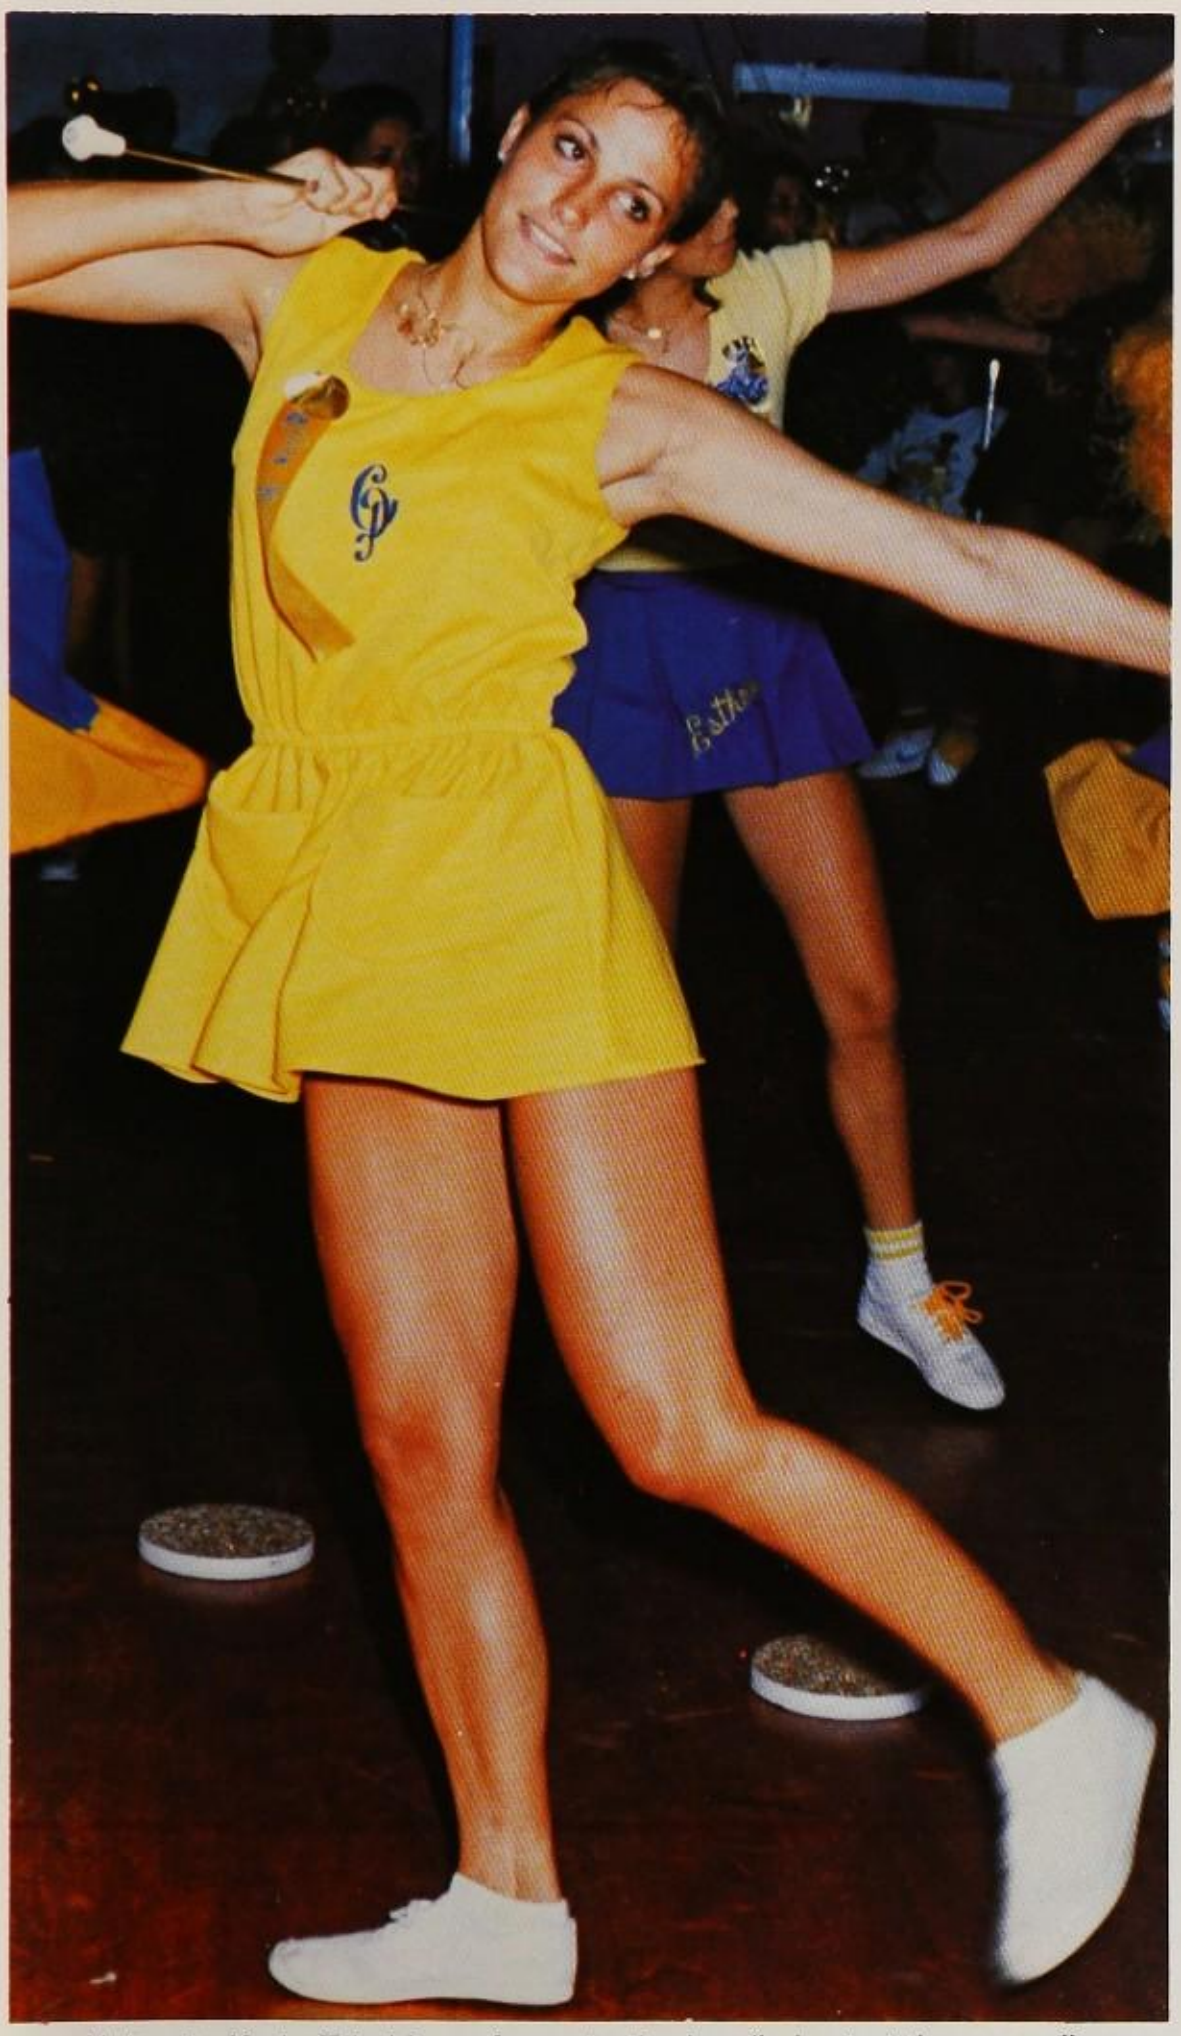


After drinking her shake, Vicki Goodman relaxes by reading a book.

After getting really into playing the Tuba, Ralph Acosta thinks of the next note to play.



Zenia Lopez, Ileana Perez and Belinda Lopez dressed up for the marching competition in P.E. class.



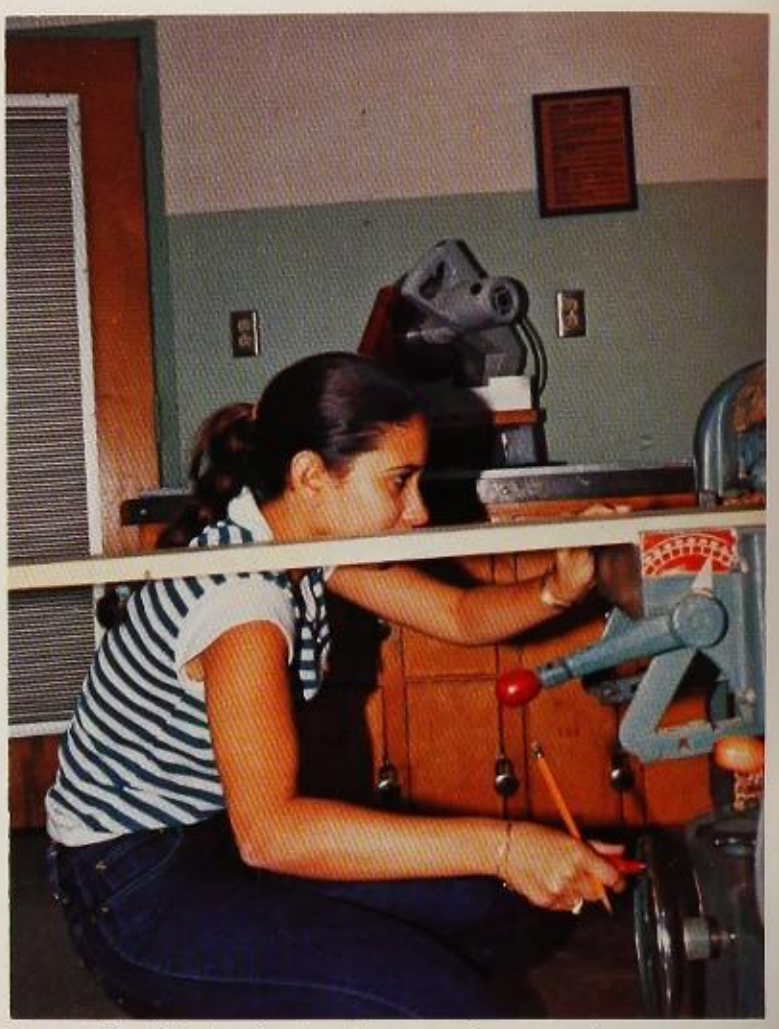
Majorette Karin Trimble performs to the band's beat at the pep rally.

OVERTIME

We've had a great year. Most of it began when the 2:15 bell rang. The best part of school was the time we spend after everyone else went home.

Vince Piscitello and Jose Terry exitedly look on to see the outcome of the play.

Concentrating on her work, Luisa Fernandez completes her assignment.

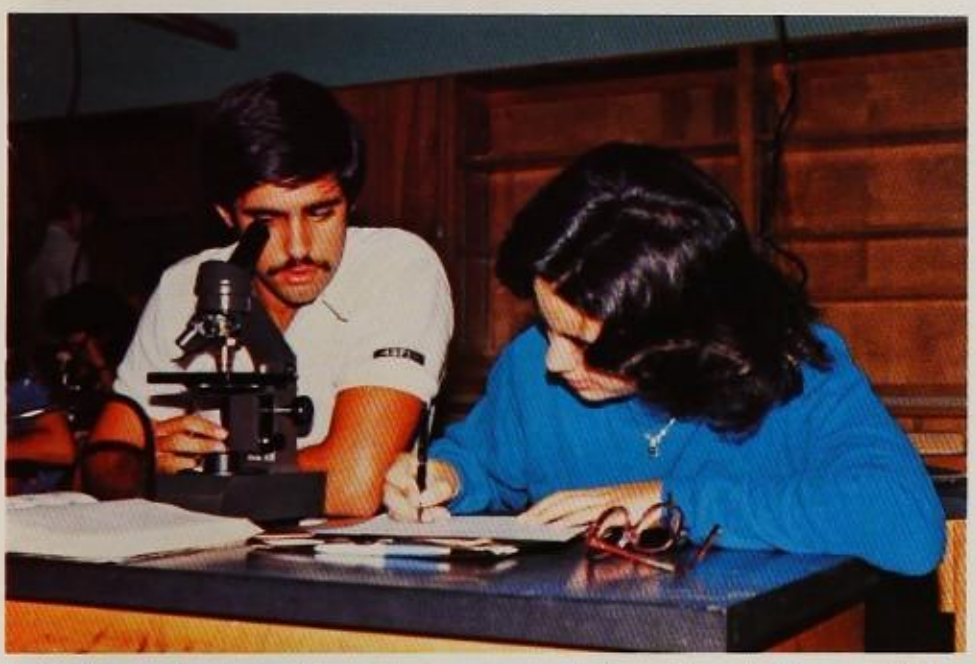


Jenny Trujillo is planing her stock to precise measure to build a shelf.

Grinding a piece of metal, Alex Nassar continues working on his project.

Working on potter wheels, Viviane Garces and Susan Paradela "throw clay pots".

Mr. Wyroba looks on as Alex Matz works on a still life project dealing with light and shadow to develop form.



Luis Torres looks on the microscope and describes to Susana Vidan the characteristics of anaphase.

Art students carved pumpkin heads showing different facial expressions.

CLASS TIME

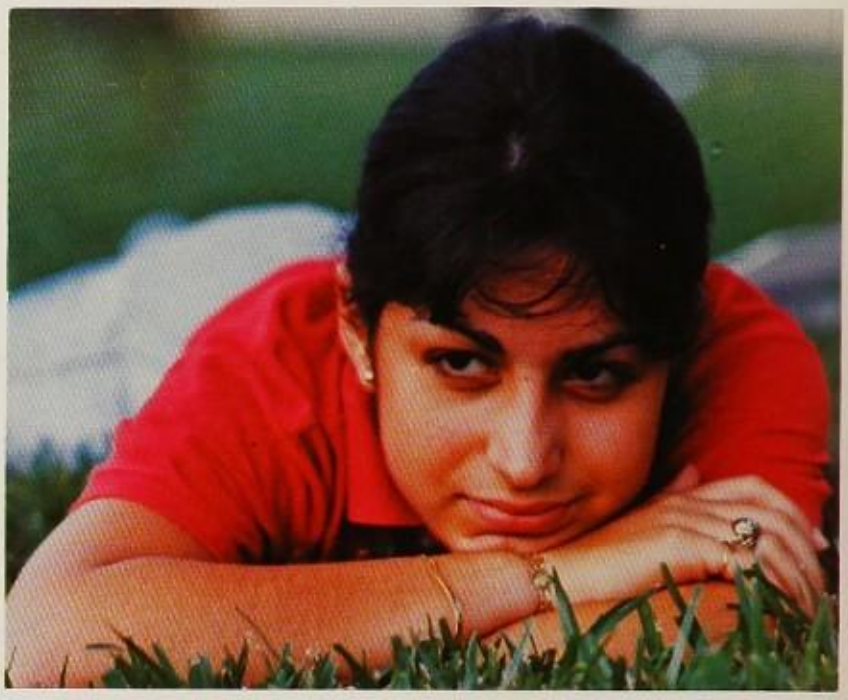
Class was just not a place to learn from a book. It was a hard chair in a too cold room. It was music, wood, metal, science, type, hear, write, love and hate. We'll only remember the good.

Milling a piece of metal for the safe he's making, Rich Ocana works on a milling machine.

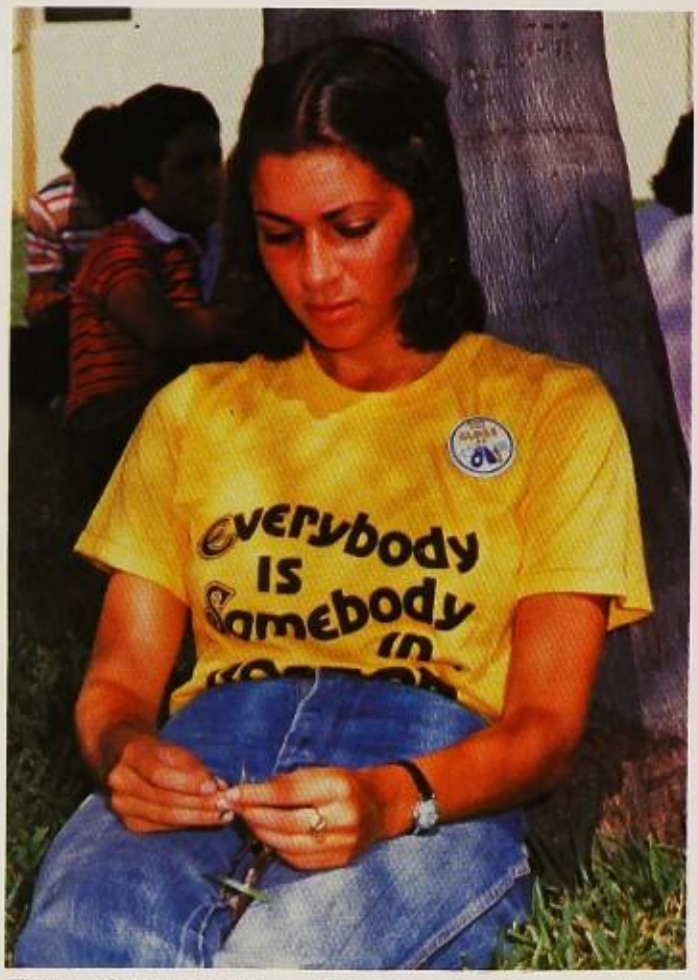
Jenny
It's been fun having you in English. You are a very Sweet person. I wish you all the luck in the world. Have fun during the Summer. take care. love
Felicia Sans

TIME TO LEAVE

Graduation makes me think about the future — my future. It forces me to think about new and different experiences awaiting me. We're ready to greet the world! Restless . . . excited . . . confused . . . young! We're ready to face what time has to offer.

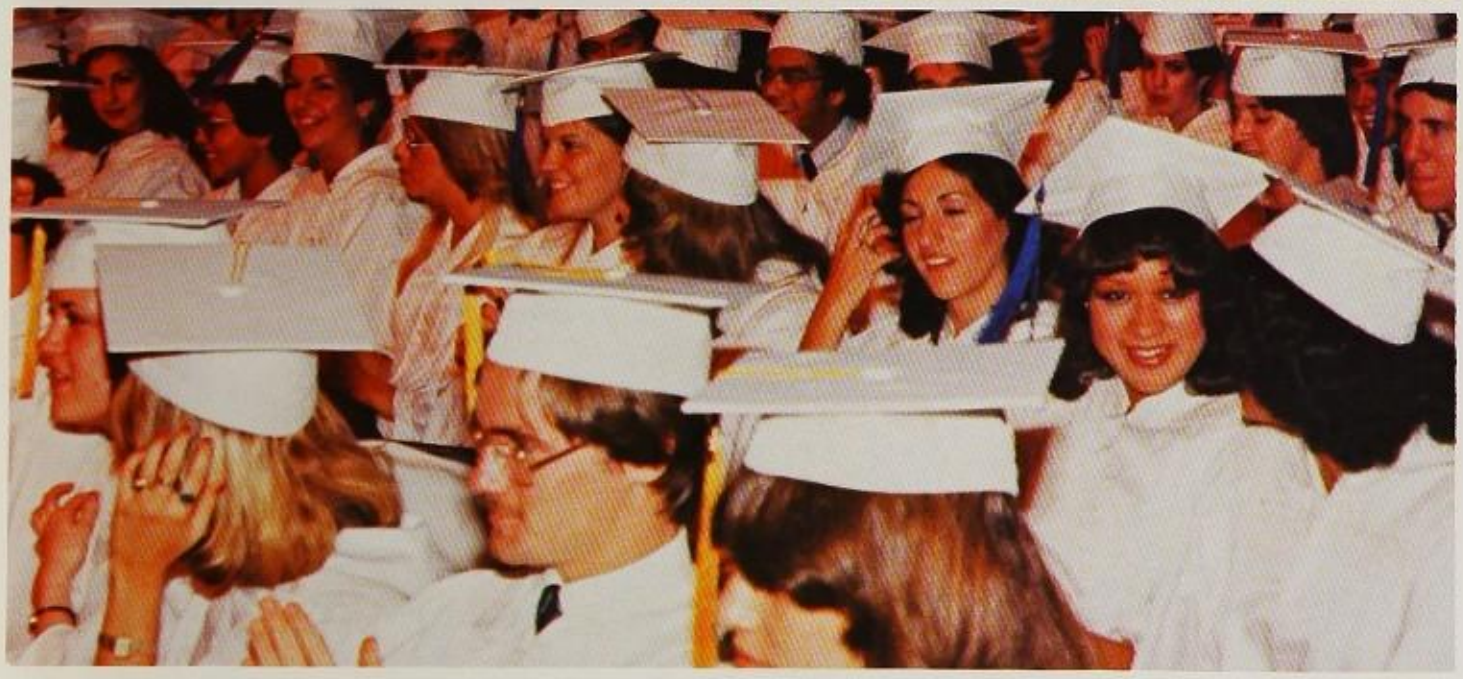


Wondering what the future will bring, Felicia Sans lays down on school grounds.



Elane Crespo takes a break and relaxes under a tree shade during fifth period.

Randy Perkins, Larry Barimo, John Staikos and Steve Wheeler sing the Alma Mater after a Pep Rally.



The moment we all have been waiting for, graduating Hall at Miami Dade South.

Motto of '81 Senior Class inspired many successes

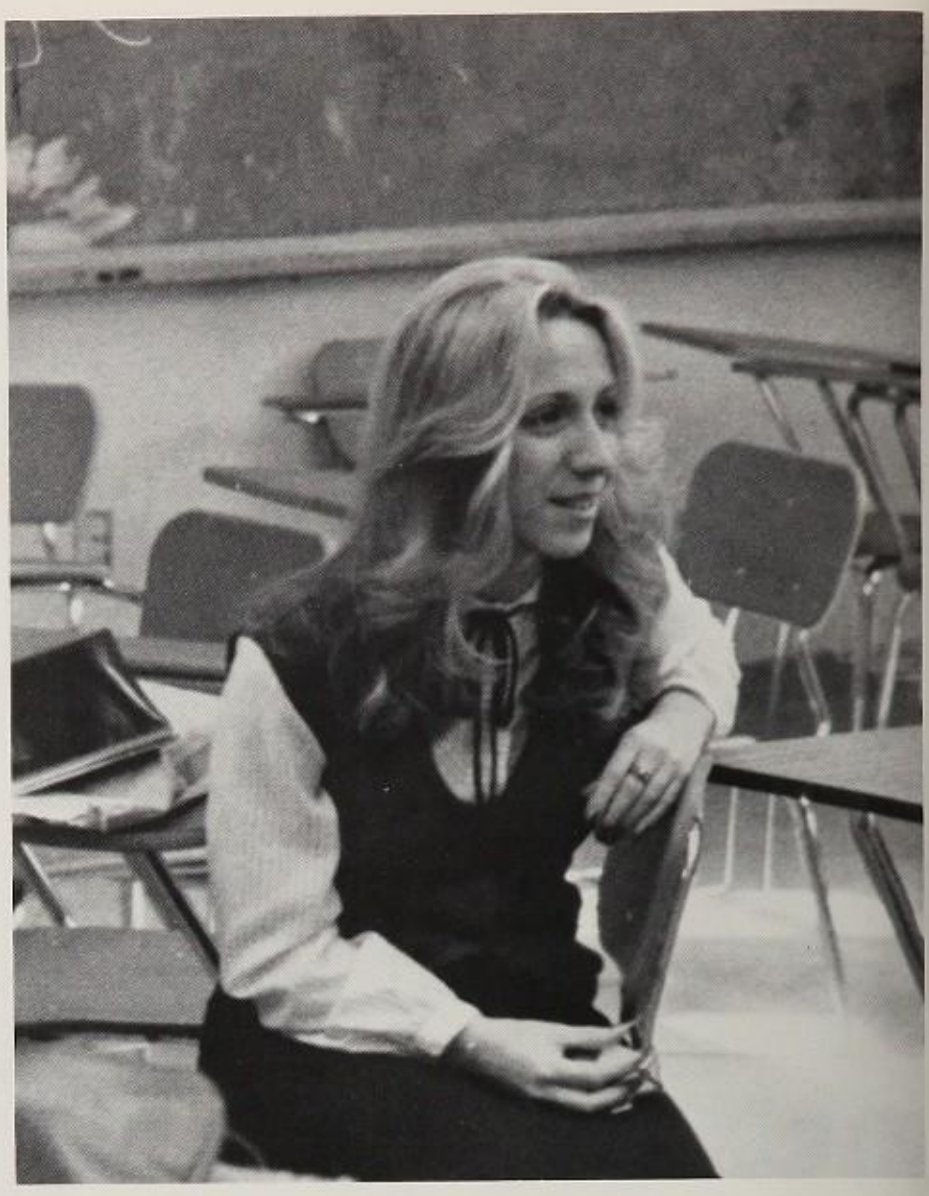
By: Phillip Carratala
Senior Board President

"Fame and fortune, here we come, we are the class of '81." This was the motto that guided us, the seniors, through our last year of high school.

Pride, confidence, and determination were the trademarks of the Class of '81. Our spirit was tremendous; during pep rallies, our section in the gymnasium drowned the noises of all others. Hope ran high throughout the year as we looked forward to June 18, the day of our graduation and the beginning of our new lives.

We began the school year with one of the largest graduating class in Coral Park's history, 758 students. In a year that saw many turmoils in the world and community, we were fortunate to find peace among ourselves, our friends and our school. Three years together has united us. We arrived with our friends and left with many more.

We were Pride, we were Spirit, we were Fun, We Were The Class Of '81.



Mr. Davis' homeroom representative, Jeannette Aquino, attends a Senior Board meeting.

Ana Diaz and Maria Avila sit, and smile at what is being said at the meeting.

Maria Rivera and Alicia Cordova listen intently to that monthly board meeting.

With his escort, John Straikos, Phillip Carratala shows enthusiasm for the evening.

As Eddie Rimland plays with a Fisher Price toy, Maria Avila sits there and laughs.

Board sponsors re-run of television's Dating Game

BY MAGGIE CAYON

The Dating Game was sponsored by the Senior Board. It was a re-creation of the original TV game show.

Held on February 12, the game consisted of five matches, four for students and one for teachers. Contestants filled out applications and the decision of who participated was made by a committee. Along with this committee, four other committees were involved with the production of the show. One committee wrote the questions, another was involved with art work, one with the announcing of the winners, and another handed out prizes. These committees were made up of seniors.

All of the participants won prizes. The winning couples won special prizes like a dinner or movie tickets. One highlight of the evening was the introduction of the Senior Superlatives.

During the Dating Game, Evelyn Puig pats her stomach while listening to the question she is being asked.

Masters of Ceremonies Virginia Herrero and Xavier Inguanzo introduce the upcoming guests during the annual Senior Dating Game.

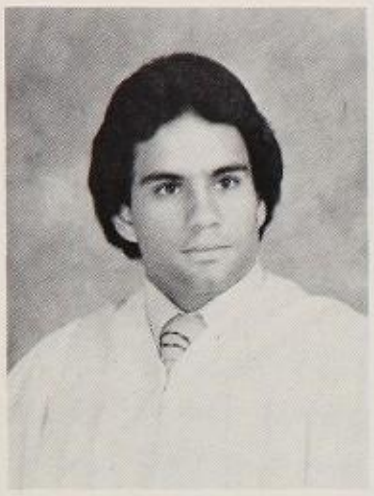
While waiting for his answer, Alex Matz wonders what the girl will respond.

Senior Luis Fernandez smiles as he looks at Tommy Gonzalez giving a humorous remark to the question being asked by the bachelorette.

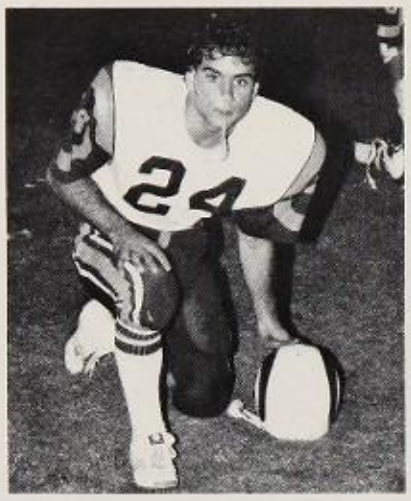
Thinking seriously about the answered question, Richard Gonzalez frowns before asking the next question.

Arleen Lopez and John Staikos meet for the first time after choosing her date for a night on the town.

The 24 seniors featured on the following pages were chosen for their participation in activities out of school. The yearbook staff recognizes that there are many others as deserving, but they were not nominated.



Raymundo Abdo



Abdo receives football award

BY: AIMEE ESPINOSA

Ray Abdo, running back for Coral Park was named winner of the Wendy's— Robert L. Michnoff Memorial Dade County High School Football Player of the Week Award on November 19, 1980. Abdo ran 144 yards on 26 carries and scored the only touchdown in our 7-0 victory over Miami High. It was the Ram's first victory of the season. This award was given in memory of Robert L. Michnoff, who was a former Wendy's executive.

Each week during the school football season a similar award was given to a deserving high school athlete and we were proud of Ray for his accomplishment.

BY: ANA HERNANDEZ

For the past year Raul Arrazcaeta has participated in the Community Lab Research Program directed by the University of Miami. Raul spent many hours each week studying the effect of noise on the cardial vascular system of patients at Jackson Memorial Hospital. By using animals for experimental purposes, Raul wrote a research paper which proposed methods of reducing noise levels "This Auditory Research Program has given me the experience and a feeling of accomplishment I would have never obtained any other place," stated Raul.

Working on community projects were just a few of the plans in Raul's future.

Baez has aircraft service job

BY: MARIA CARDENAS

Ariel Baez has a busy schedule working seven and a half hours and going to school also. He goes to work at 6:00 pm until 1:30 am at the Miami International Airport in the Aircraft Service Division. He does an innumerable amount of things in the airport. Driving tugs, loading and unloading baggage among many other things is a typical day at work for Ariel.

He works on the weekends from 6:00 pm to 1:30 am too. On weekends he also works in the flea market in the mornings. "I'm saving money for college. I want to become a pilot or work with computers," he stated.

Combines law and health career

BY: MARLENE BRAGA

While students revel in the end of a school day, Senior Jacqueline Brown spends her time after school working in a lawyer's office filing, typing and doing general office work. In the evening, Jackie works at Slim Quick Health Spa. She is an instructor who shows customers how to work out properly and how to improve their appearance. She also gives massages and facials. "Working for a lawyer and at a health spa is a great experience, but if it weren't for the discipline school taught me to obtain, I would have no job at all," Jackie concluded.

Songwriter shows promise

BY: TERESA DEFRANCESCO

Aurora Castro has a talent for playing the guitar and writing songs and screenplays. She has played the guitar for six years and has written five songs and two screenplays.

After high school, Aurora plans to go to the University of Miami to study medicine. She wants to practice medicine and afterwards go into a career in the movies. Aurora's dream is to star, produce, direct, write and compose the music for her own movie. "When I'm older I want to look back on my life and say, 'I did everything I wanted to and enjoyed every minute of it,' " concluded Aurora.

Artist brings life to painting

BY: NIVALDO QUINTANA

Born in Colombia, South America, Margarita Correa started painting four years ago. Painting to her is a hobby and she has no definite intention of turning it into her career. She considers herself a modern painter. Margarita prefers painting what she can visualize, instead of her inner feelings. "When I paint I find peace, I forget about what is going on around me and concentrate on the painting," she commented.

With the continuing inspiration given to Margarita by her teachers, especially the art teachers and mostly by her parents, she will continue to pursue her hobby to the fullest extent.

Cuervo works for the Army

BY: KENNY MERKER

While many students were spending their summers at the beach, Juan Cuervo decided to enlist into the Army. Juan enlisted on March 19, 1980. He took basic training at Fort McClellan in Alabama. After school ended, Juan learned basic soldiering. He became a marksman with an M-16 rifle and familiar with the handling of grenades.

"Boot Camp helped me feel more confident of myself and I can now tackle more obstacles with a more positive attitude," stated Juan. Juan graduated on August 20, 1980 from Boot Camp with the Honor Trainee of the Company's Award, for his active participation with exercises, and war games.

Expression through dance

BY: JUAN CUERVC

Denise Diaz has been in modern dance all three years. She won the Best Modern Dancer Award in her junior year. She started dancing nine years ago.

Denise has visited Venezuela twice as a guest artist for the Corps of Ballet. She's won two dancing competitions in Ft. Lauderdale qualifying her to compete in New York. She has been offered a scholarship to New York to perform at the American Ballet Theatre but she refused it so that she could finish high school. She won Best Actress award in 9th grade and was crowned Gold Coast Queen in a talent, beauty and modeling contest.

Ivie makes music

BY: MAGGIE CAYON

Ivie Etkins' love for music has gone further than just listening to the radio or humming a tune. For ten years, Ivie has been playing the violin. She has participated in competitions, and is a member of the Miami Music Club for Young Performers and has received several certificates. She has attended the Eastern Music Festival in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Presently, Ivie plays with the Greater Miami Youth Symphony. She is president of the Symphony. She was in the production "Fiddler on the Roof" at Temple Zion. She performs in churches for special masses and services. "My whole life is playing the violin and making music," she concluded.

Exter bowls perfect game

BY: BILL TEDESCO

Jack Exter, or "Dr. X" as he is known to his friends has bowled a perfect game. A perfect game in bowling is getting twelve strikes in a row.

Jack has bowled in leagues for several years and has an average of 197. He attributes his high score to practice. More amazing is that Jack being 4'10" is the shortest guy to get a perfect score in Florida. "Size doesn't matter in bowling; effort and dedication does," he stated.

He received several awards, including a trophy and a plaque. Jack's future plans include bowling, and becoming a veterinarian.

Fagen observes judicial system

BY: CINDY KRISCHER

Each Thursday for a full semester Lisa Fagen participates in the Court Observer Program, one of the on-site learning programs provided by Dade Public Schools. Lisa travels to the Dade County Metro Justice Building where she attends a class from 1:00 to 5:00 Thursdays. Lisa views actual trials ranging from petty theft to first degree murder. Through actual court observations she is able to develop attitudes and values concerning the judicial system. "I've interviewed judges, state attorneys, and public defenders," said Lisa. Lisa was selected for this program on the basis of interest, grade point average, and a mature level of responsibility.

Student works with Fascell

BY: PIERRE DWYER

Luis Font, a 17 year old Coral Park student, was an employee of Congressman Dante Fascell during his last campaign. He worked over 100 hours as the student coordinator for the campaign. Luis was one of forty students representing three schools. As student coordinator, he was in charge of all student services.

His reason for voluntarily becoming involved with Congressman Fascell's campaign was due to an assignment for his Close-Up class. He became so interested in the campaign that he volunteered to work more than the required twenty hours.

"I think everyone should get involved in a campaign. It's a good experience and a person can learn how much his vote really counts," said Luis Font, Close-Up president.

BY: ANA INGUANZO

Sandy Manrique is an active member of Junior Achievement. Junior Achievement is an organization whose main objective is to teach students skills in business administration. Although Sandy has been in Junior Achievement for only a short time, she says "I'm looking forward to expanding my knowledge in the business world through the specialized training of Junior Achievement."

Junior Achievement is also helpful for students in the future as well as the present. It helps students earn scholarships, and grants for college. Junior Achievement is involved in community related projects such as visiting orphanages during the Christmas holidays and helping publish a monthly paper.

Sergio Medina enjoys scouting

BY: SOFIE VILAR

Taking the time to help others is often more demanding than one realizes. Sergio Medina, a Boy Scout troop leader, feels it is no problem whatsoever working with the other boys. "Through scouting, I have become a better citizen and a conscientious member of my community," stated Sergio.

Sergio has been a scout for the past seven years. He became interested in scouting when his older brother joined in New York. In March, Sergio received the Eagle Scout Award. "I am proud to belong to a group that still holds on to important values," he concluded.

Milian plans advertising career

BY: HEIDI MARINO

Janice Milian, a senior at Miami Coral Park, uses her spare time in taking and developing pictures. She enjoys taking abstract pictures of sunsets and other unique things. Her father, who is a photolithographer for the Miami Police Department, encourages Janice in photography and even built her own dark room for developing pictures. She has been taking pictures for over a year and plans to enter in major contests held throughout the year.

"Photography is a worthwhile craft that will benefit my future career of advertising. I plan to major in advertising which needs plenty of experience in photography," stated Janice.

Senior works with children

BY: SAMMY DANON

Reaching out with a helping hand, Christina Nino taught preschool at King's Creek Village this past summer. "Working with kids can be a wonderful experience. Not only does it give you an opportunity to show what you have learned, but more importantly you also help the children develop an understanding of life," she said.

During the summer Christina taught from one to six pm. She would play, finger-paint, and paste with the children. Afterwards, she would teach the alphabet and reading.

"I think we should all remember that we will receive as much love as we give," she continued.

Perez works in Export Co.

BY: AIMEE ESPINOSA

Iliana Perez has learned the meaning of the word responsibility. She is assistant manager in an export business called High Performance Trading & Export. "Since I have started working I've learned a great deal about business," she stated. Iliana works balancing books, keeping records, and typing. Having gotten the job through a teacher, she devotes most of her day to the necessities of business work. On a regular day she works four hours straight until all work at the office is finished. But Iliana enjoys the work she does. "My job is like a second home to me," concluded Iliana.

Sanchez excels in athletics

BY: ALEX VALDES-RECIO

Like most athletes, wrestler Jeff Sanchez is not yet satisfied with himself and his achievements. Even though last year he placed 2nd in G.M.A.C., 1st in district, 3rd in regionals, and 2nd place in freestyle state competition, Jeff wants to become the state champion.

"If I win a match, its because I worked hard and wrestled well. If I lose I can't blame it on anyone else but myself," he remarked. Jeff was chosen by some coaches of Dade County to wrestle in an Allstar Team which competed against a Japanese team in which he pinned his opponent in the 3rd period.

Segovia attempts song, study

BY: GABY PUELLO

Being a singer and a chemist are two careers very distant from each other. Yet Vivian Segovia believes she could someday succeed in both professions. Concerning her future plans she says, "I would like to sing as a career but knowing that it is a risky business I chose to study science to fall back on."

Vivian is presently enrolled in the Community Lab Research Program at the University of Miami. Her plans are to acquire a degree in chemistry and to continue doing what she loves most of all, singing.

BY: ALICIA CORDOVA

Terence Waldron's main interest is in diesel mechanics. He started training as a mechanic at Robert Morgan when he was in 11th grade. In 6 months he won first place in a regional Dade, Broward, Monroe, and Palm Beach competition and later won 3rd place in a state competition.

"Terence is the 3rd best diesel mechanic in Florida enrolled in a vocational school," said David Kirkpatrick, his teacher. He plans to keep studying mechanics and to get a good job through the schools' cooperative education program.

"My goal is to become a diesel mechanic and work on luxury yachts," stated Terence.

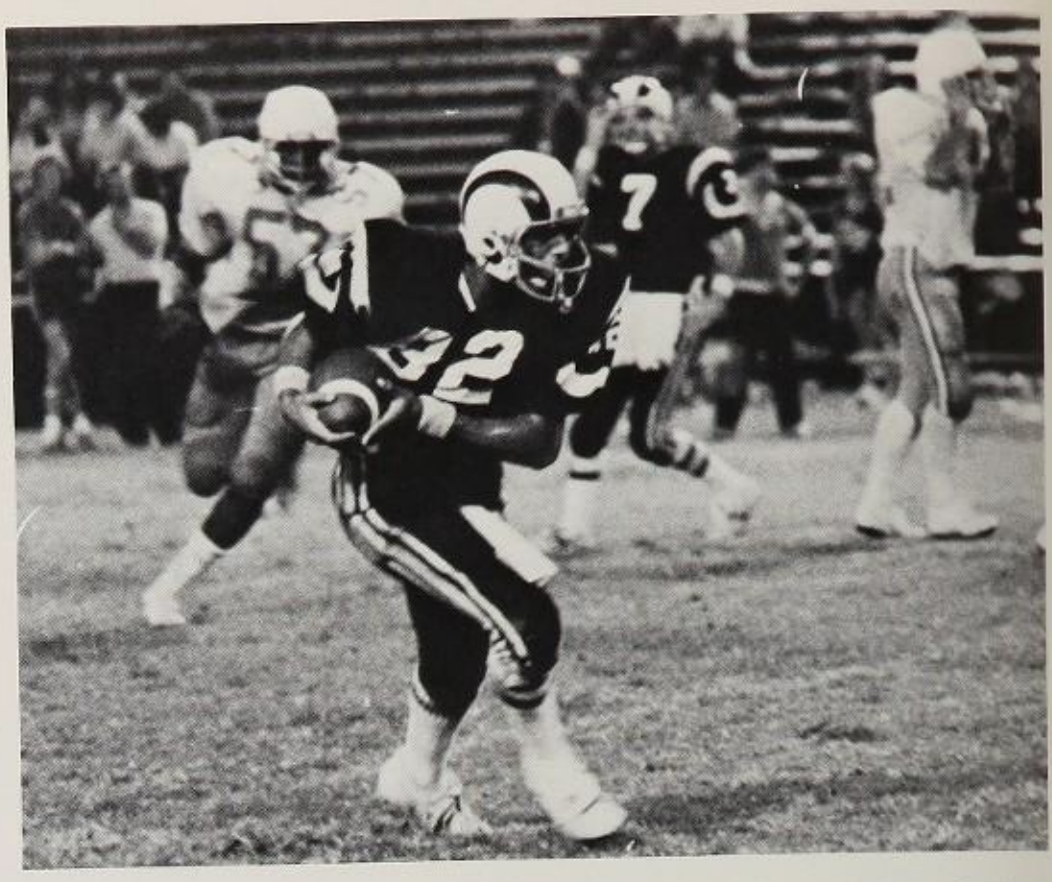
Varsity Football Team ends up with 1-9 season record

By: Pierre Dwyer
Sports Editor

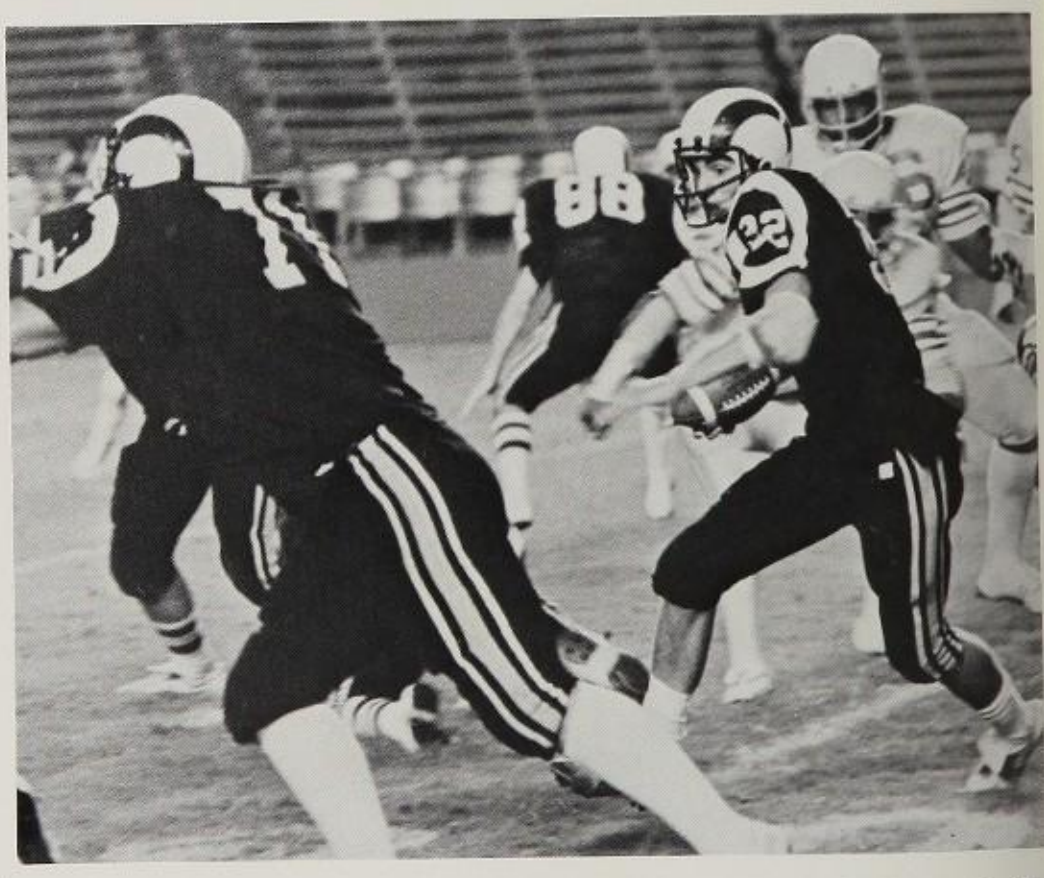
The varsity football team finished their 1980 season with an unimpressive 1-9 record. Throughout tbe season, the team was ineffective offensively. The defensive unit, on the other hand, performed adequately, giving up an average 199 yards offense to opposing teams and finished 13th in Dade County for defensive average.

The team's only victory was a 7-0 win over Miami High. Raymundo Abdo's 144 yards rushing was good enough to earn him player of the week honors from the Miami Herald. Junior Quarterback Sam Smemo played well in his first start and directed the offense to an opening drive touchdown.

Offensive Lineman, Mike Alvarez, was selected to the Miami Herald's All-Dade third team. Receiving honorable mentions for the Rams were Ray Abdo, and Larry Barimo. Linebacker Jose Terry was a defensive standout. "Jose is the best linebacker we have. He hits hard and gets the job done right," said Coach Ed Hargrove, Assistant Coach.



After catching this pass from Quarterback John Staikos (7), Larry Barimo (82) looks upfield towards the endzone.



Offensive Lineman Mike Alvarez (71) gives Running Back Doug Carillo (32) some running room through the Northwestern defense.

Joe Brutto (74) has a firm grip on American quarterback as other Ram defenders help out.

Ram players rejoice after Doug Carillo's (32) touchdown put them ahead 7-6 after the third quarter. ➡

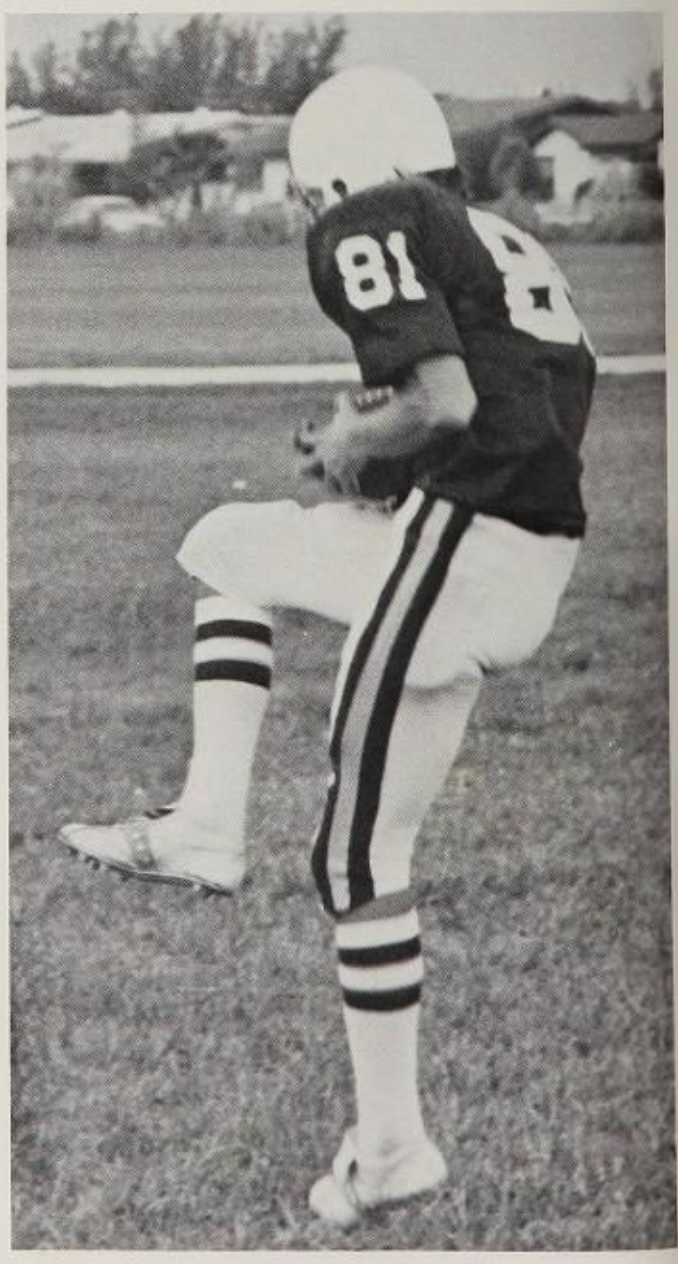
Pedro Kiliddjian (44) gets this Coral Gables running back behind the line of scrimmage for a loss of two yards.

Carlos Jarro (6) grabs this pass thrown by Quarterback Adam Laboranti for the touchdown which gave the Ram's the lead.

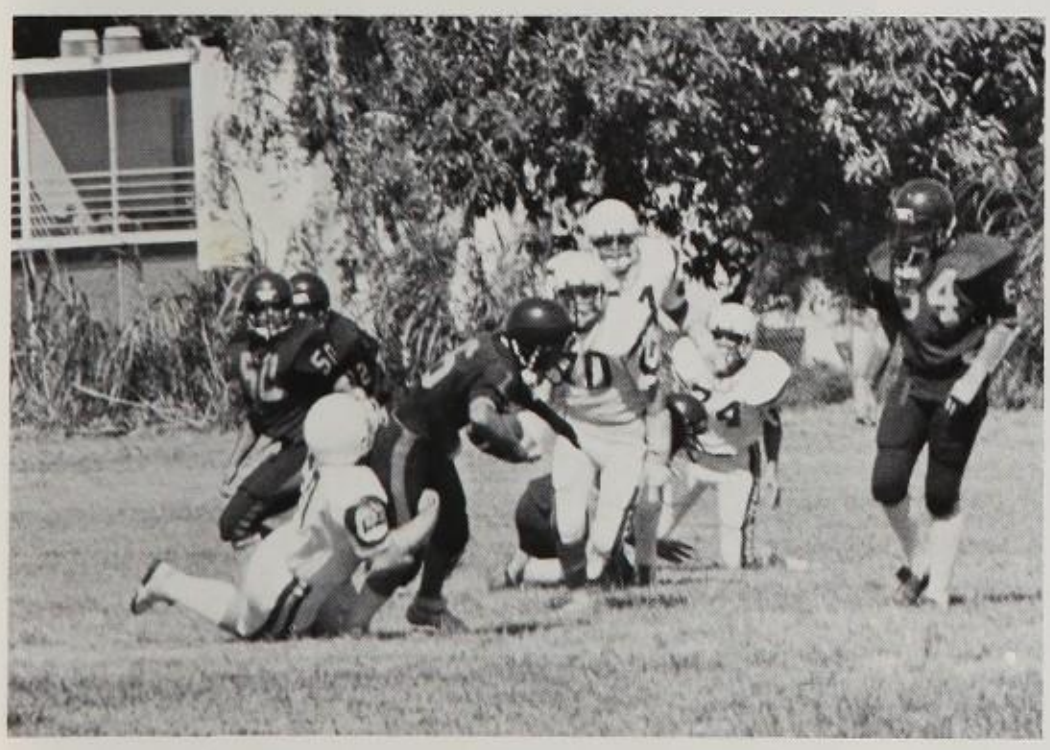
Tom Misacavage (89) makes a catch near the goaline in this game against Northwestern.



Jeff King (81) makes a first down catch against Coral Gables in the J.V.'s last game.

Adam Laboranti (12), Alfredo Montanez (10) and Mike Fandino (31) line up behind Center Anthony Gainer (50) at the three yard line.

Mike Fandino (31), a running back, eludes a Northwestern defender as he makes a short gain to the 45 yard line.



Defensive lineman Carlos Valdes (60) stops the Miami High quarterback for no gain as other Ram lineman look on.

J.V. Football players have 'successful' season of 3-3

By: Pierre Dwyer
Sports Editor

The junior varsity football team completed their season with a 3-3 record. After an opening game loss at Columbus on September 18, the team won three straight beating Miami High, Miami Beach, and Miami Springs. But the team lost the final two games at home to Northwestern and Coral Gables. "The team lacked experience but overall had a successful season which was very rewarding and enjoyable to see happen," said Coach Donald Buslinger.

The team's main assets throughout the season was a strong running game and a solid defense. The offense was able to score from almost anywhere on the field, making many big plays. David Del Rio, running back, broke loose for over 180 yards and two touchdowns in a victory over Miami High. "Being on junior varsity gave me the chance to play and perform the way I wanted to," explained David after he was moved to the varisty squad. Other outstanding players for the team were Quarterback Adam Laboranti, Tight End David Misacavage, and defensive players Bill Giunta and Carlos Munoz.

The price is great but the rewards are greater

By Ana Martinez

When you inherit a program that has only one returning player, your success is usually found on the practice court and not during the game as this year's varsity basketball team proved. "I was very optimistic about this season. I had an excellent group of young men that were willing to pay the price of working hard to produce a good program. They had a chance to develop and learn something new. The attitude and sportsmanship that they leave behind will be noticed by others in years to come," stated Coach Edward Joyner.

Early in the year, the team showed some weaknesses, but outstanding players Ricky Gutierrez, Vinnie Rodriguez, and Jose Beiro helped improve the squad. Forward Arsenio Arabitg also contributed a lot to the team as he was the leading scorer averaging over ten points a game.

As Gus Alfonso watches on, Jose Mole attempts a jump shot that scores the opening points against Palmetto.

Three J.V. players to help next year's varsity to win

By Ana Martinez

This year, the JV boys basketball team was expected to be an exciting and hard working one, led by George Grani, Ali Ali and John Maggio. "These three players have the ability to become the best players that Coral Park ever has had," stated coach Ron Miller. "Although we were facing some weak points early this year, later on there was improvement in the squad."

Key players Willie Guash, Steve Trimble, and Tony Gainer.

"The team played well and worked hard," commented Coach Miller. "Our strength was defense."

"As far as ability goes we had a lot of natural ability. There has never been a better junior varsity team. Their record was 10-12. "They always gave 100% of their energy at every game. With the help and support of the coaches, next year the team will be even just as good or better," Miller said.

Girls' Basketball improves with late season victories

By Ana Martinez

With ten players returning from last year's girls' basketball squad, experience was the strongest quality of the team. They were off to a very slow start this year, but later in the season improved by crushing Southwest 49-20 and beating Miami High 39-36. The team ended the season with a record of 6 wins and 14 losses.

"The girls may not have had the height of their opponents," commented Coach Connie Arcaini, "but they had the spunk to make up for it."

"The team members credit their improvements to the fact that they worked well together, practiced hard and had good team spirit. We were a close team, there was a great amount of team work," said Maria Moreno, who led the team in rebounds and in scoring.

Gene Stage and Connie Arcaini shared the coaching responsibility during the season. There was no junior varsity to compete against, so the varsity and j.v. played together as one team.

Badminton team regroups after one year's absence

BY: PIERRE DWYER
Sports Editor

"Since we didn't have a badminton team last year, I was really looking forward to a bunch of new faces and new talent, "claimed Coach Fran King at the outset of the season. This year the team had quite a large turnout as over 30 students tried out for the 16 positions on the team.

Contrary to what many people may believe, badminton is not as easy as it looks. Badminton is a fast-moving, aggressive sport. "I think it's the quickness of the sport which surprises most people," said Coach Fran King.

Outstanding efforts were contributed by team players Mandy Hernandez, Oscar Kourany, Eddy Chao, and Sophomore Abe Rodrigeuz, who showed some promise. "The reason I joined the team is because I was on it before and I'd found it very challenging. It's a lot harder than it looks," said Oscar Kourany.

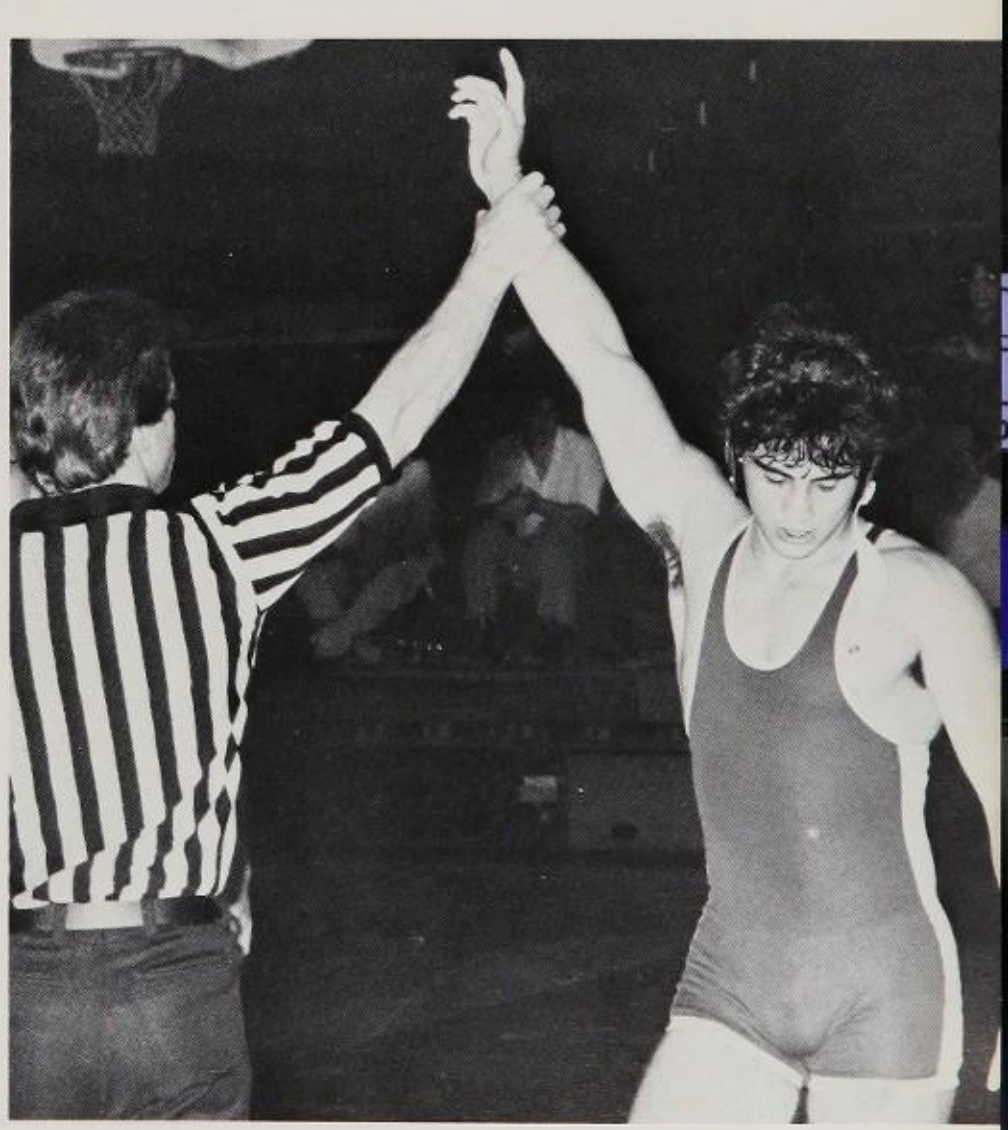
Wrestlers start off strong fade as season progresses

By Juan Cuervo

Coral Park's wrestling team started the year on a promising note as they defeated the Miami High team by a score of 75 to 5. This victory gave the team inspiration to take them to a winning season, but lack of experience and shortage of wrestlers caused the team to have a bad season. Under the coaching supervision of Andy Sigl, the wrestlers achieved a sense of unity that had been missing in past years.

"Our guys have tried too hard to make it all the way. When they got behind in matches, they worried, and this caused them to make mistakes," stated Coach Sigl. The Rams went on to win two of their last four matches.

"Next year's team will learn from the mistakes of this year's team," concluded Senior Gonzalo Perez.



Senior Gonzalo Perez's hand is being raised in victory after beating a Sunset opponent.

J.V. season starts slowly improves later in schedule

By Juan Cuervo

At the beginning of the year the j.v. wrestling team was heading towards a bad season by losing three matches in a row. Their losses were to Palmetto 35-12, South Dade 23-22, and Coral Gables 41-15. But they improved a great deal after the Jackson match which they won 45-12. "I think they need more experience for next year. We had good talent but lacked experience," said Coach Andy Sigl.

The wrestlers gained more experience as they proved in a match against Miami Springs where they won with a score of 56-6. Juniors David Abdo at 157 lbs., Alfredo Montonez at 134 lbs., and sophomores Alex Cuervo at 107 lbs., and Tony Gonzalez at 140 lbs., were among the top prospects for next year's varsity team. "I think we got a lot of experience toward the end of the season, but we are going to be a great team next year," stated Alex Cuervo.

Varsity Volleyball worked well as a Unit and improved on skills

By: Maria E. Cardenas

The varsity volleyball team concluded its season with a record of 5 wins, 6 losses. "Although we didn't play as consistently as we should have, the girls played together as a team," commented Coach Fran King.

"As a team, we did have our ups and downs, we did work closely as a unit. We had a good season. We won most of the games we should have. The team's that beat us didn't win because they were better than us, we just had some bad breaks," said Lisa Boyles.

The team's season record was not outstanding but the team did play aggressively and improved on their overall skills especially in the area of spiking and blocking. Their teamwork and unity is what kept the team going throughout the season. "Even though we lost, there isn't a team that had the togetherness that we had," said Maribel Gonzalez.

Junior Varsity team has a new coach and a winning season.

By: Maria E. Cardenas

An athlete should be dedicated, eager to learn, and ready to win. The members of the girls' volleyball team possessed all of these qualities.

Led by Captain Luisa Fernandez and co-captain Emma Grau, the team showed its potential by ending its season with a record of 4 wins and 3 losses.

"I'm very pleased that as a first year high school coach we had a winning season," remarked Coach Connie Arcani about her group comprised of sophomores and juniors. Outstanding players were Frances Gil, Maria Gonzalez, Luisa Fernandez, and Emma Grau.

"I feel we played extremely well. We were all close to one another and believe it or not, that helped quite a bit. Team work is an important thing," stated Sophomore Francis Gil.

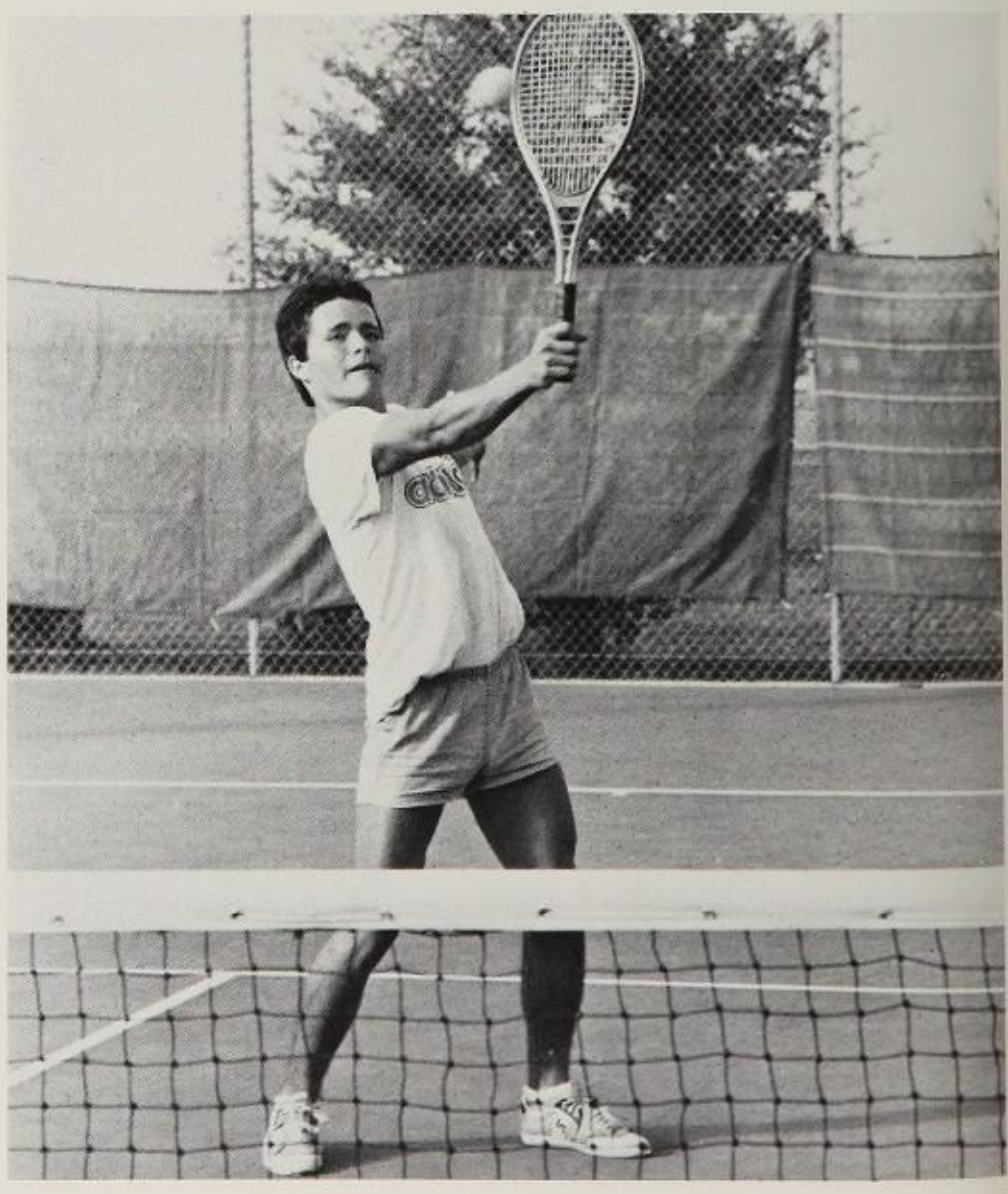
Ability, depth, and intense effort shown by tennis team

By Ana Martinez

One of the greatest things about this year's tennis team was the ability and depth of talent the team possessed. "Our winning season was due to the fact that the intensity of effort shown maintained the level of play throughout the season," commented Coach Vincent Maury.

This year the team, one of the most determined and willing to work in the district, had a high degree of natural ability. The team started out their season with a victory and continued winning throughout the year with a high performance level.

"We had very good prospects, although I wish more girls would have tried out so that we could have fielded a full girl's squad," stated Coach Maury. The team has produced many young stars. The top five players were: Steve Moreno, Angel Ferrer, Paul Czerniak, Rod Tendrich, and Mike "Machine" Marhee, according to the coach.



While returning a serve, key player Paul Czerniack scores a point for the Coral Park tennis team.

Talent helps Girls' Soccer team overcome inexperience

BY PIERRE DWYER
Sports Editor

The girls' soccer team completed their fourth year of varsity competiton under the direction of Coach Phil Valente showing great enthusiasm throughout the year. Since last year's squad consisted mainly of seniors, many promising new players were given a chance to exhibit their potential.

Practices began early in February and continued through the soccer season, which consisted of 10 games. Outstanding players on the team this year were Marilyn Marante, Karin Trimble, and Valerie Bryant. The efforts of these more experienced players helped lead the team to their winning season.

"The fantastic attitude that these girls had expressed since the beginning of the season left no doubt in my mind that they would do very well and have a successful season," said Coach Valente.

Varsity soccer team ends year with winning record

By Teresa DeFrancesco

The varsity soccer team worked hard and practiced every day which rallied them to a winning season. The dedication and discipline of Coach Donald Buslinger, who has been coaching the team for two years, also contributed to the success of the team. The team got off to a great start by winning their first five games. They then had a bit of a slump and lost the next four games and tied one. The team concluded its season and ended up with a record of 11-5-1.

The team has a variety of skilled seniors which added the needed experience. It also had many sophomores which promises a good team in the future. "My years in soccer have helped me to obtain the discipline necessary for everyday competition that exists" said Half-back Eddie Boloix.

The outstanding players were Paquico Tellechea, who scored the most goals during the season; Sergio Jimenez, who prevented opponents from scoring; and Roger Vasquez, who proved to be an excellent fullback.

"This Cross Country team is the best I've ever coached," said Coach Bob Zell after the boys' cross country team completed their regular season with a perfect 10-0 record and a first place ranking in the county. In accomplishing their perfect record, the team upset highly rated and undefeated teams like Columbus and Killian. Outstanding runners who headed the team's success were Julio Valdes, Mario Arias, Luis Fonte, and Bernie Brito.

The team advanced to the G.M.A.C. Finals October 31 and finished second. Sophomore Julio Valdes finished second with a time of 15:47. The following week, at the district championships, the team earned a spot in the regionals with a third place finish. However, their season ended when the team missed qualifying for the state championship by only 11 points.

The girls' team, led by Coach Neil Kugler, had a winning record of 7-3. "The participation in cross country this year has made us stronger than we've ever been," said Carol Osorio, the team's number one runner.

Boys' Track faces tough schedule, gains experience

BY GEORGE ROQUE

The 1981 boys' track team started their season by having the first annual Blue and Gold Track and Field Exhibition Meet. The boys' team had a very tough schedule starting with one of the top schools in the Bull Relays then following with Killian, Coral Gables, and Columbus. The team also traveled to Gainesville, Florida twice for the Lady Gator Competition and the Florida Relays. "We had a very young team but we put a lot of effort into every meet. I think that helped our team mentally as well as physically," stated third year runner Elliot Olinick.

Don Kirkpatrick took over as head coach while Charlie Shrum, Ray Cruit and John Popovich assisted. This year's team consisted of many talented runners. The top runners were Clinton Walker, Julio Valdes, Mario Arias, Elliot Olinick, Rick Gonzalez, and Tony Capara.

Track team compensates for lack of experience

BY CINDY KRISCHER

The girls' track was under the direction of Coach Kugler, Cross-Country coach and a second year coach for the team. Coach Kirkpatrick, a previous state winning track team coach was new to the team this year.

This year's team was composed mostly of sophomores and juniors with very few seniors. "Although the team was lacking in experience they compensated for it by their endurance," stated Jeannette Rodriguez. The team endured tough workouts. Their enjoyment of running led to great participation which will build a foundation for future girls' track.

Top runners this year were Senior Jeannette Rodriguez, Junior Patty Sialguerio and Gaby Hasbun.

Great performances from top three pitchers perfect team

BY MARIA E. CARDENAS

This year's varsity baseball team was led by Bert Pascual, third baseman; Eddie Miguelez, pitcher; Angel Gutierrez and Fred Pineda, outfielders; and Ralph Gali, shortshop, who all played their last year for Coral Park.

"This season we had strong performances from our top three pitchers," stated Coach Luis Brande. "The pitchers, Eddie Miguelez, Jorge Armas, and Orlando Peña were consistent and pitched well. Although inexperienced, our hitters did produce many timely hits at the plate," he continued.

The varsity team ended its season with an impressive record of fifteen wins and nine losses. "We worked extremely hard getting ready and played to our fullest potential, which brought a winning tradition to Coral Park," stated Senior Eddie Miguelez.

"I knew that with the combination of hard team work and good coaching we would finish true winners," concluded Senior Angel Gutierrez.

Experience contributes a lot to the success of the Baseball team

BY MARIA E. CARDENAS

Led by Coach Luis Brande, the junior varsity baseball team played exceptionally well throughout the season. "This year's J.V. team was quite talented. We had some great players who knew what they were doing," stated Coach Brande.

The leading players on the team were Catcher Juan Ventura, outfielders Racial Sanchez and Ismael Fernandez, and Pitcher Victor Contreras. It was tough living up to the reputation of the records of the previous teams, but as a result it made us work harder and play our games with 100 percent effort," commented Victor Contreras.

Experience contributed greatly to the success of the baseball team. "I felt the attitude and determination that the team showed throughout the year was the key to our winning season," concluded Coach Brande.

Gymnasts show effort and sacrifice throughout year

By Ana Inguanzo

Two years of victory for the gymnastics team marked the beginning of a very productive team. Not only was this due to the fact that the team showed effort, persistence, and personal sacrifice, it was also due to the dedication which Coach Roland Lopez showed the gymnastics team. "I felt in order to have a winning team they had to be unified, show personal sacrifice, and enjoy what they were doing," said Coach Lopez, gymnastics instructor.

The gymnastics team practiced year round for at least three hours a day. Coach Lopez tried to acheive a well-rounded and strong gymnastics team by spending a regulated amount of time on each apparatus. In effect, this showed clearly during the gymnastics competitions.

The gymnastics team consisted of Tommy Yoham, Jose Carrasco, Scott Forti, Jerry Yoham, and John Lowe who worked hard each day of the year to achieve their fullest potential as a team.

Golf team shows progress, finishes with winning mark

By Jorge Roque

The 1980 golf team got on its way December 9 with its first practice round at Miami Springs Country Club, their home course. This year's team had a tough schedule when they met teams like South Dade and Miami Springs. "This year's team consisted of one senior, two juniors, and three sophomores and we'll have to play to our potential if we're going to have any chance with the state title," stated Senior Mike Henderson, one of this year's top golfers.

The team will have to better their 6-4 record if they want to have any chance in winning the state title. This year's top golfers were Mike Henderson, Victor Fernandez, and Harry Fritz. "It would help the team if more school spirit was shown for the sport. We probably would win more matches," continued Henderson. This year's schedule began in January.

Confidence plays a great part in the Lady Ram's victories

BY ALICIA CORDOVA

The Lady Rams returned this year with a strong infield squad which helped lead them to a winning season. Experienced players, such as Captains Amy Perez and Tammy Wunderly, played with skill and vitality, leading the team to several victories. "We worked well together trying to make this year's team the best yet. We were all good friends and that helped a lot," stated Captain Amy Perez.

Confidence played a great part in the Ladies' victories over some of the more competitive teams. "Throughout the season we had to learn to stay psyched up for our games. If we played against a tough team, our confidence enabled us to play tougher," commented Lisa Boyles.

"I'm proud of the fact that we did well. We knew what we wanted and we knew how to get it. We had a great time!" concluded Captain Tammy Wunderly.

Swimmers get new coach gain inspiration and ability

By Juan Cuervo

At the beginning of the year the Coral Park swim team did not have a coach. Through the hard work and constant efforts of senior John Villate, the administration hired a swimming coach. Gene Welsh became the new swimming coach, and Bob Karl, assistant coach.

Bob Karl has devoted his career to swimming. "The good coaching of Karl enabled the swim team to have a successful year," stated John. "I feel if we would have had a bigger team we would have had an even better record," stated Coach Karl. Some of this year's top swimmers were seniors John Villate, Mike Medina, Juan Cuervo and John Hardy. "Despite our small turn out this year, we had a lot of team spirit and lots of enthusiasm," commented John Hardy.

Girl bowlers win Central, boys team finishes second

By: Juan Cuervo

The girls' bowling team finished their season with a 56-0 record, best in the school's history, and a first in the county. "I feel I coached the team better than I did last year because I was more experienced and committed fewer mistakes," said Coach Harold Mandell.

The boys record was 42-14 and they edged out Columbus to win a playoff birth while finishing in second place in the Central Division. "It was an up and down season at the beginning, but we stiffened up and with a little luck we came through when we had to during the crucial matches," said Junior Wilson Fernandez.

Nancy Kavanaugh was the girls top bowler with the highest average in the division (169). Nancy also held the division's high set of 555, while Espy Fernandez held a high game of 225. Jack Exter, well known as Dr. X, was the boys top bowler with an average of 188.

Clubs, Students participate in Homecoming Parade

By Alicia Cordova

Homecoming Week ended this year with the annual Homecoming Parade. "The parade is an activity in which all clubs, homerooms, and individual students can participate," said Jackie Eads, activities director. Clubs showed spirit in different ways. Modern dancers' "A Chorus Line", Art Interest's dragon, and Key Club's kazoo band were just a few of the participants. This year's float winners were: 1st place, Audio Visual Technicians; 2nd place, Civinettes; and 3rd place, French Honor/Interest.

Students marched down Coral Way to arrive at Tamiami Park where the Columbus football game was played. During half-time, the court was presented to the attending crowd.

"The Homecoming Parade is good for everyone. The whole school got together to support our team," said Phil Carratala, Senior Board president.

Council chooses theme song of annual Homecoming Dance

By Heidi Marino

The 14th Annual Homecoming Dance was fashioned around the song "Sketches". Held at the Omni International Hotel on November 14, the ballroom was decorated by the homecoming committee to give an artistic setting. The table decorations were dried flowers mounted on miniature easels. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Coral Park queen and her court.

This year's Homecoming Queen was Vivian Segovia. The sophomore princesses were Patty Barreto and Norma Blanco. Junior princesses were Maritzabel Lopez and Kelly Yessman. Senior princesses were Karen Trimble, Arleen Lopez, Susie Alvarez, and Denise Chapman.

"Student Council did an outstanding job in making our Homecoming Dance a memorable event in my senior year. The band and decorations suited the occasion perfectly," exclaimed Senior Zoe Tomas.

Pep Rallies arouse spirit within Coral Park students

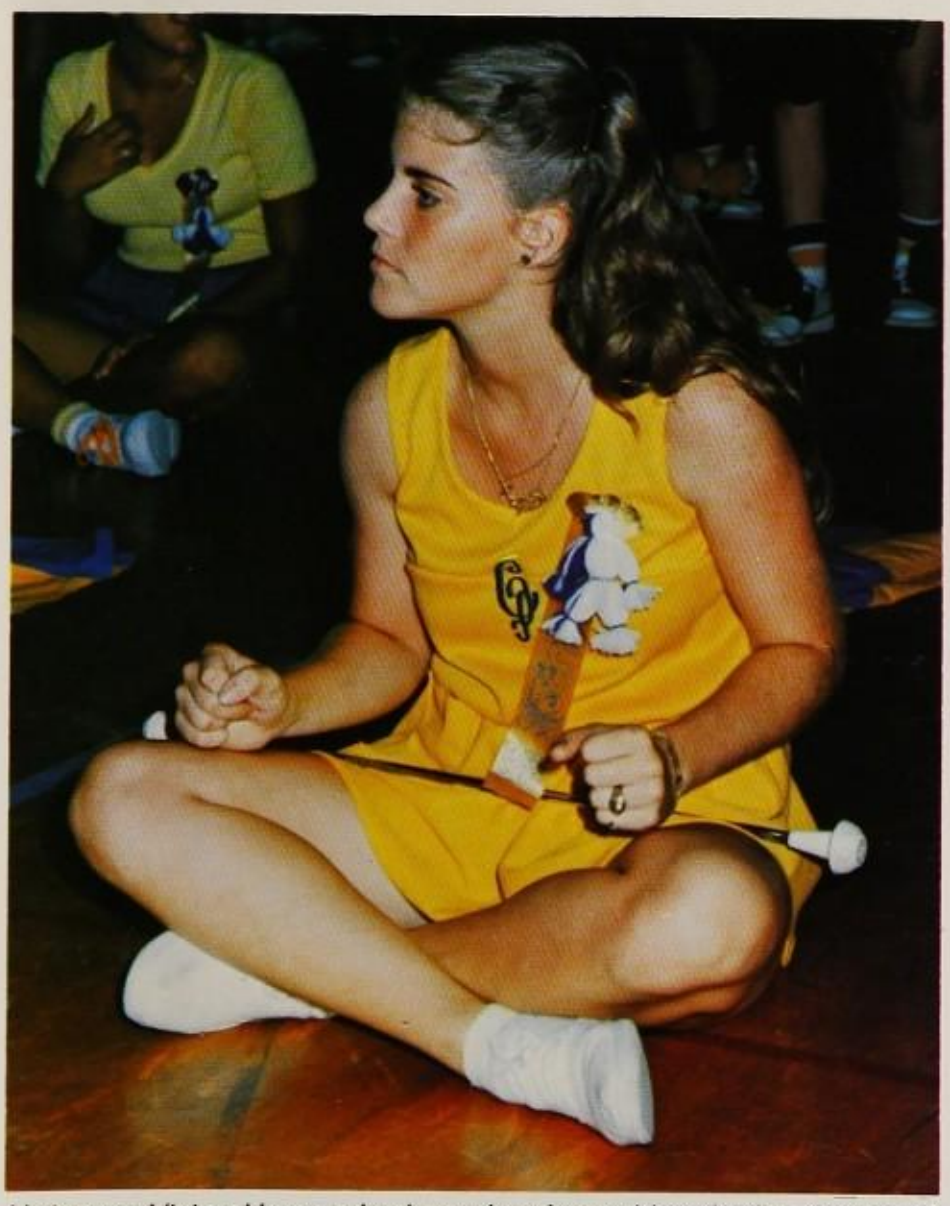
By Bill Tedesco

Pep rallies at Coral Park helped to rouse up spirit in the student body. The cheerleaders, led by Captain Niza Menendez, got the students going with their enthusiasm. "The pep rallies definitely have a positive effect on the students, and are a very necessary part of the athletic program," stated Randi Mannis, co-captain.

The band, led by Virginia Herrero and Jenny Penkosky, played music that really got one's sense of belonging going. On November 20, the final football pep rally was held to commemorate the Homecoming game against Columbus and to honor the senior football players. Representatives from various radio stations were there to award several outstanding seniors.

"The pep rallies are great. They help put pride and spirit into the students," stated Junior Debbie Brodbar.

Homeroom representative Melanie Dernis won the honor of ripping the eagle to shreds during the first pep rally.



Majorette Vivian Hernandez is anxiously awaiting the beginning of her performance at a pep rally.

Sunshine, friends set mood for a beach-bum's weekend

By Heidi Marino

"Being with my close friends and soaking up sun rays is why I like going to the beach," commented Junior Lourdes Llerena. The bright sun, frisbees, friends, and refreshing ocean water were reasons why Coral Park visited Florida's beaches. These attractions lured students to the ever popular South Beach, Crandon Park and Haulover during teacher workdays, weekends, and holidays.

"The season is not important to me. Even if it's the middle of winter or early spring, going to the beach is what I really enjoy doing on my days off from school," said Randi Mannis, a varsity cheerleader. Throughout the school year Coral Park students gathered to go to the beach. "It's definitely one way to escape homework and to relax," stated Senior Susie Alvarez.

Students wear best attire for Jeans day celebration

By Bill Tedesco

Jeans and Tee Shirt Day celebrated the students' favorite school attire. The jeans "craze" started with the advertising tactic that uses famous celebrities wearing designer jeans. "I love the fact that rock star Deborah Harry wears my favorite jeans. It makes me feel special," stated Senior Paula Schwartzman.

Concert tee shirts were also a hot item. Students enjoyed wearing Queen, Blondie, or Cheap Trick tee shirts. "It's a great way to show everyone the concerts you've been to," commented Senior Ana Pineda. Concert shirts are a nice reminder of the many concerts I've attended. It is something you can take with you once it's over," added Junior Jan Weiss.

The contest, sponsored by the Arieon staff was won by Sophomore Vivian Quiñones, who received a free yearbook. "This kind of dress expresses the spirit of American youth in a fun way," she concluded.

Students find places to go, relax after the school day

By Ana Inguanzo

"Students are always finding new places to go and enjoy that makes the weekend something to look forward to," remarked Senior Ivie Etkins.

Florida's refreshing lifestyle and multitude of activities helped relieve students from the daily pressures of school. Teenagers in South Florida liked to have fun during their spare time and Florida's environment offered a wide variety of opportunities. Activities included shopping at Dadeland, dancing and dining, and swimming at the beaches. Roller skating and bike riding, as well as outdoor sports also proved popular during the year.

"Miami has become a city with a lot of things to do. Because of its international flavor, outdoor sports as well as the night life have become major areas of entertainment for tourists and native Floridians," stated Senior Janice Milian.

People love rest, relaxation during summer vacations

By Teresa DeFrancesco

A vacation is an interval of time devoted to rest and relaxation from home and study. Last summer quite a number of students went on vacations all over the world. A couple of students went to Europe, specifically Spain and the French Alps. A popular vacation spot was the Bahamas. "Going to the Bahamas really made my summer great. I enjoyed shopping for souvenirs and drinking Piña Coladas by the pool while listening to the music of the Goombay Festival," commented Heidi Marino, a junior.

Localized vacations are more common now because of inflation. Another favorite vacation of students is to go on cruises. "Cruises are great! I got to meet people from all over the United States, and I had the honor of being invited to the captain's table for dinner," said Senior Maria Del Pino.

Lucy Penabaz and Gloria Gonzalez enjoy boating and sunning while vacationing at Disney World.

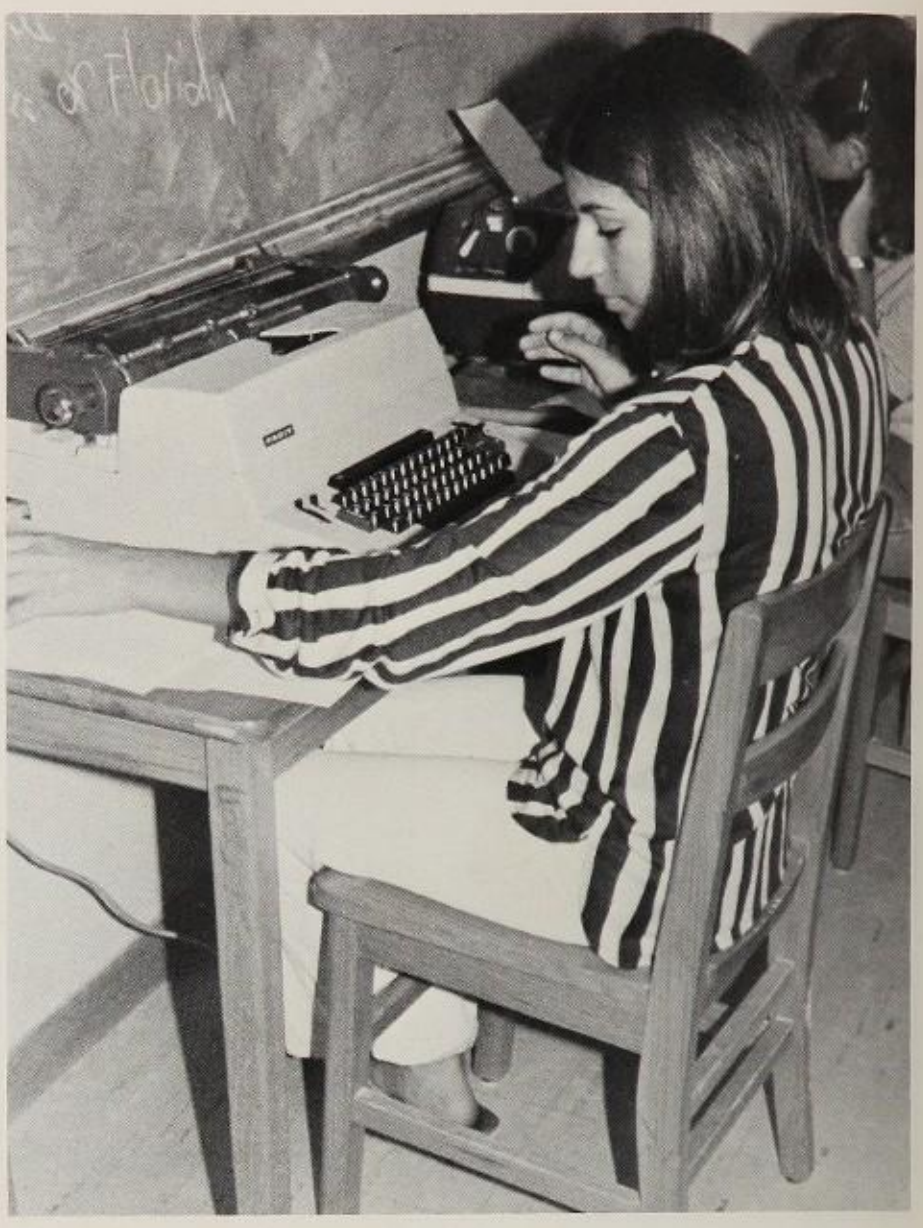
Arieon Staff works hard to provide 1981 yearbook

By Nivaldo Quintana

This past year the Arieon staff worked in bringing the 1981 Arieon to completion. Much emphasis was placed on photography and decreasing the number of errors in the book. The staff's hard work helped to produce a 380 page book.

Other than writing copy, taking pictures, and designing layouts, the Arieon staff introduced a Jeans and Tee-Shirt contest and added a special section honoring outstanding seniors. Each senior recognized had a brief summary of their special talent along with a picture of their unique qualities.

"The most difficult part in putting together the yearbook was that this year we had to meet earlier deadlines in order to get the book finished in school earlier. This added extra pressure to everyone on the staff," stated Alex Valdes Recio, editor-in-chief.



Before typing her copy block, sophomore Ana Inguanzo looks for a piece of paper.

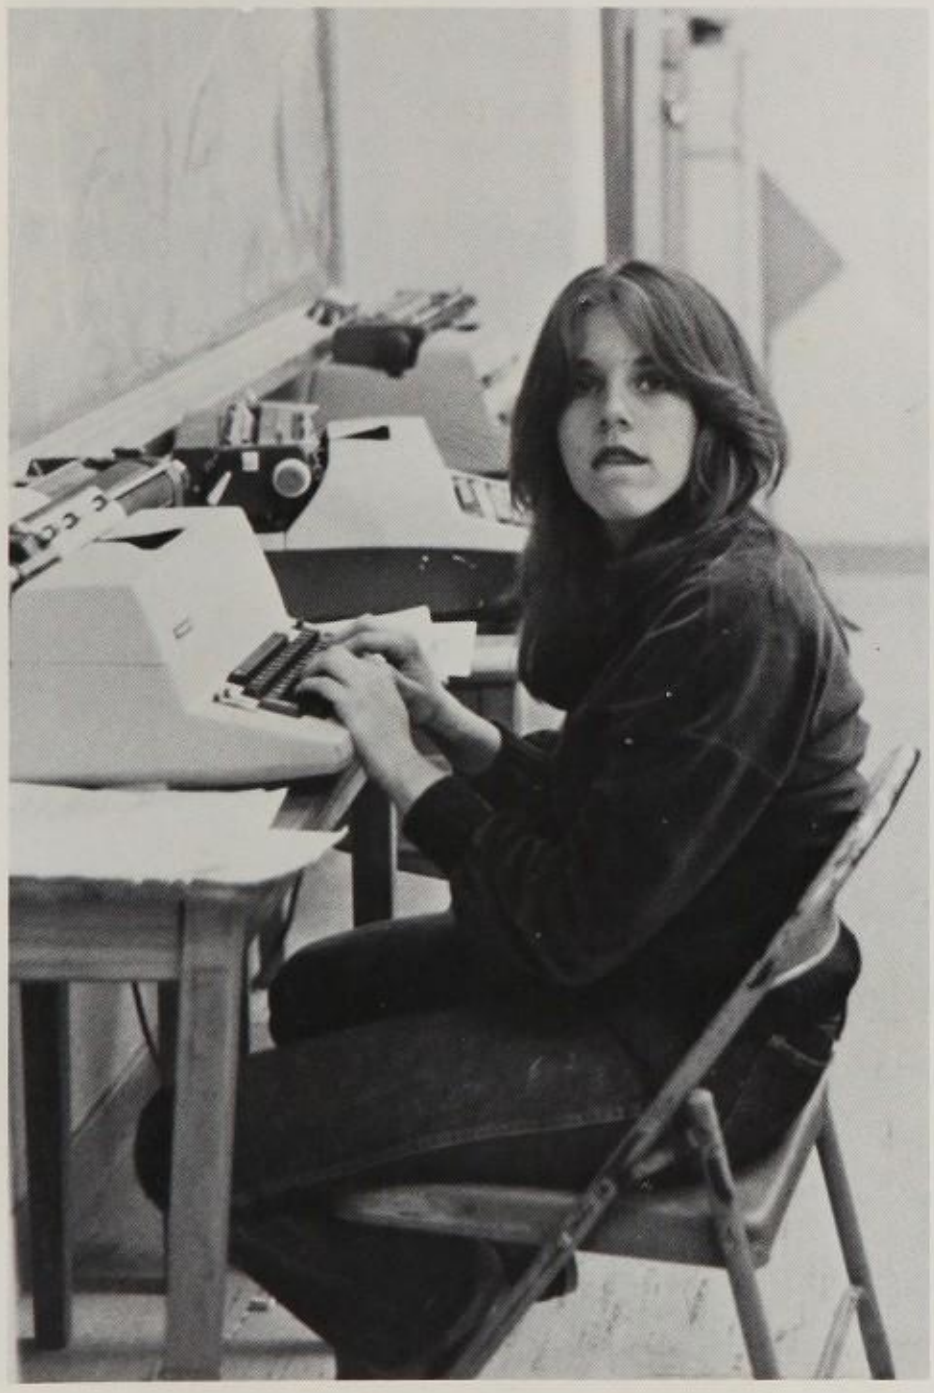
Pupils have the right to be informed in school events

By Heidi Marino

Students have a right to be kept well informed about the school and the community in which they live. With the help of their advisor Gerald Stone, the Rampage Staff helps students to be well informed. They covered many community and major school events. The newspaper class has two staffs which published every three weeks. Editors were Allan Rimland and Ana Dopico. Feature editors, Sergio Garcia and Lee Kantor, focused on modern-day issues of interest. News editors were Ken Hart and Gigi Dopico, sports editors were Oscar Suris and Andrea Strauss. Editorials were Ileana Machado and Franklin Elsea.

To give the Rampage a new modern look the staff changed their usual layouts to modular layouts.



During class, Irene Torres bites her lip while making a typing mistake.

Modern dancers entertain for many types of groups

By: Maggie Cayon

With the help of advisor and friend Mrs. Nancy "Pickle" Perez, Performing Modern Dance worked together all year to put together their performances. Besides their annual Winter and Spring shows, they also performed in several places.

During February, the class attended the Southern District Convention of the American Alliance for Health, P.E., Recreation and Dance at Orlando. They were one of two high schools in the State of Florida invited. To raise funds needed for the trip, they sold ceramic candles for Christmas, wrapping paper, gifts and sponsored a dance-a-thon.

"The Performing Class is a very close-knit group because they spend so much time practicing together. The dancers are all very talented and each one has something special to contribute," stated Mrs. Perez.

New drama season begins with funny Neil Simon play

By Teresa DeFrancesco

Drama students this year were very busy with contests and events. In November, they performed a successful production of Neil Simon's Come Blow Your Horn.

In class, the students saw slides and heard lectures on the history of drama. They also wrote scripts for a presentation at the Historical Society Harvest Festival which was held in November. Some Drama students also competed in the Thespian Competition for individual events at the University of Miami in December.

"Drama helps students live some of their dreams through the characters they portray. Acting brings excitement and a sense of fullfillment with the creation of each role with the mind, and body all working in unison. As a result of these experiences, the students become more aware of life," concluded Mrs. Lou McLean, drama sponsor.

Varsity cheerleaders promote school functions

By Teresa DeFrancesco

The varsity cheerleaders worked hard to promote enthusiasm within the school. The squad cheered at our football games, basketball games, volleyball games, and of course, pep rallies. "Cheerleading is important, because we represent the school and the functions that happen within it," commented Randi Mannis, co-captain of the varsity cheerleaders.

"Cheerleading has always meant more to me than just the name. To me, cheerleading means friendship and the enjoyment of generating spirit for our athletes," remarked Niza Menendez, varsity cheerleading captain.

The squad of cheerleaders went to the Youth Fair in April to compete with the other high schools. They learned some of the cheers that they performed there at the National Cheerleading Workshop held in late July at the University of Miami.

J.V. cheerleaders try to keep the best standards

By Heidi Marino

In the stadium or on bleachers, J.V. cheerleaders lead crowds with spirit and cheers. They cheered for football, girl's volleyball, and boy's and girl's basketball. Before each game they were required to practice numerous hours. They also sold programs at varsity football games and participated at pep rallies. All cheerleaders must keep a 2.5 average throughout the year.

During the summer they sold candles for new uniforms. In late November they sold candy bars and had a car wash in January. The profits were for the cheerleading banquet at the end of the year.

"We feel that it is an honor to be a cheerleader, particularly at Coral Park, and we will do the best to maintain a high standard," said Advisor Dorothy Day.

Band members work hard for better Marching Band

By Sam Danon

Marching under the leadership of a new band director, Mr. Edward Gooding, Coral Park's Blue and Gold Band turned a lot of effort into success.

"Marching band is a lot of fun because it combines playing music with movement. It is also a lot of hard work," said Jenny Penkosky, drum major. Band practice started two weeks before school began under the hot summer sun. Once school began the band practiced two hours after school everyday for the duration of the football season."

"The many hours of practicing paid off. Mr. Gooding worked us hard, but it was worth it in the long run as the band grew bigger, closer, and better," stated Carlos Fernandez, band member.

Girls work in many areas, add life to Marching Band

By Ana Martinez

Officially called auxiliary units, the Arieonettes, Rampages, and Majorettes were a very essential part of the band. The girls learned different routines each week for half-time shows, parades and pep-rallies. They were also involved in contests with the band in which their individual performances were evaluated.

The Majorettes, led by Captain Lisa Weeks and Co-captain Karin Trimble, and the Arieonettes, led by Captain Lisa Nestler, used several types of batons to add dimension and color to the performances. The Rampages, a dance and drill team, worked with pom-poms, gloves and small flags. "Being a Rampage has been really great. I've met many people who have become good friends," stated sophomore Maty Monfort.

Stage Band's excellence pleases their new director

By Jane Sapp

Under the direction of Edward Gooding, the sixteen members of stage band this year performed at Back to School night in November, a concert on December 16, and participated in fund raising events for the band. They played a more contemporary style of music than the other bands in the school. "Being in stage band gave me the opportunity to play more modern selections than they play in concert band," stated saxophonist David Woodbury. "From their excellent performances it is obvious Mr. Gooding had a positive effect on all the band members. Stage band is a lot more exciting this year because of our new director, Mr. Gooding," stated member Ricky Ramos.

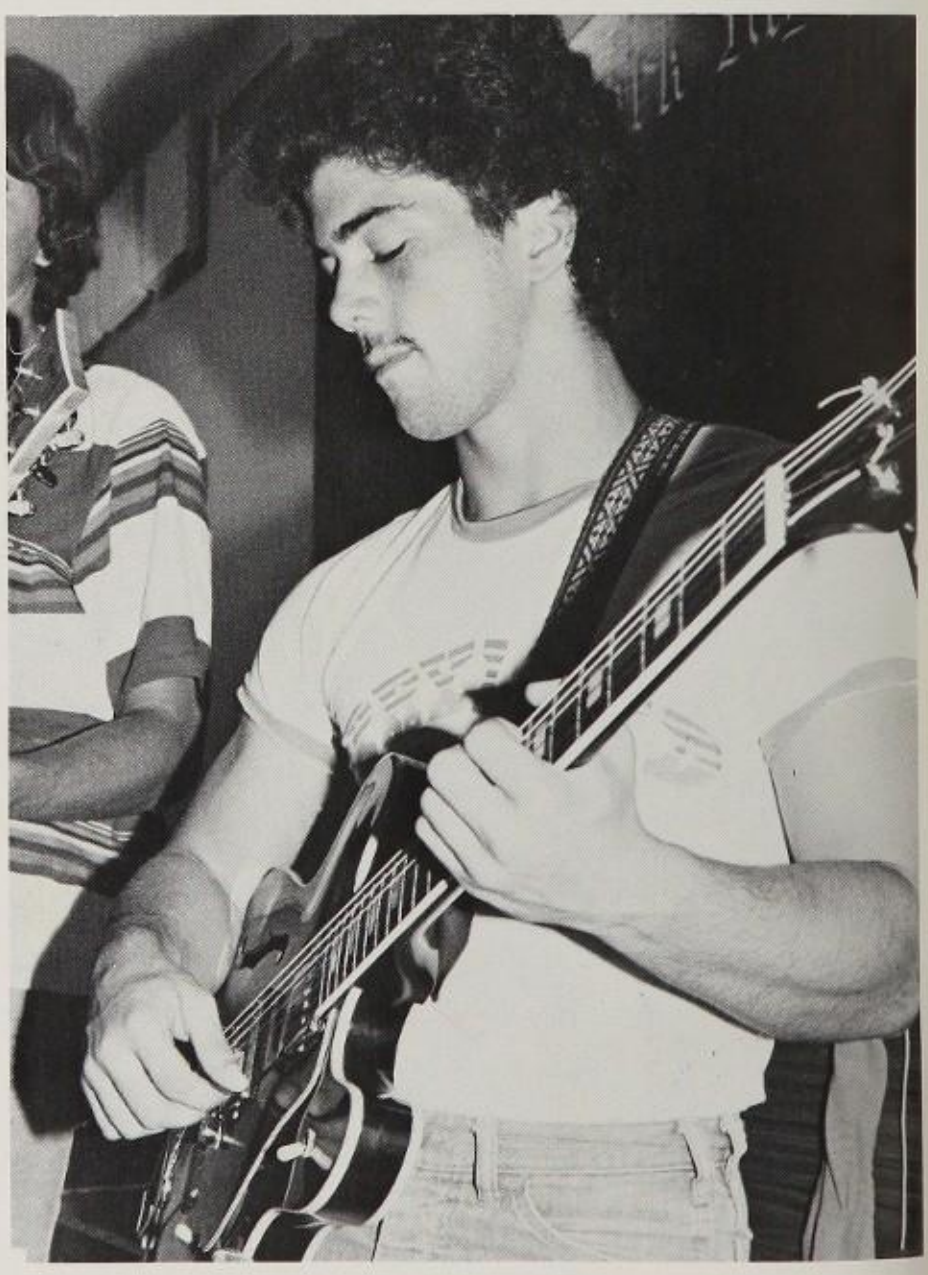
Getting ready for a daily practice, Clinton Powell individually warms up with some scales.



Apparently enthused by the selection he's playing, Tony Gonzalez winds into his solo on the electric guitar.

Intensely, Junior Jimmy Penkosky tries his technique on a new selection that was presented to him.

Jenny Penkosky delicately plays her flute solo while the rest of the band attentively listens in.

A large crowd gathers in curiosity as Mike Pancier and Eric Hoytink on electric guitars and David Magagni on drums "jam-out" after school.

Joanne Adirim practices the clarinet before daily practice actually begins.

Luis Gutierrez takes advantage of the time after school to perfect his skills in playing the baritone.

Marybeth Wise, caught in a solemn mood, plays a selection on her clarinet.

Senior Mayra Montero practices a selection very seriously on the piano for an upcoming concert.

New Orchestra director gives group added vitality

By Aimee Espinosa

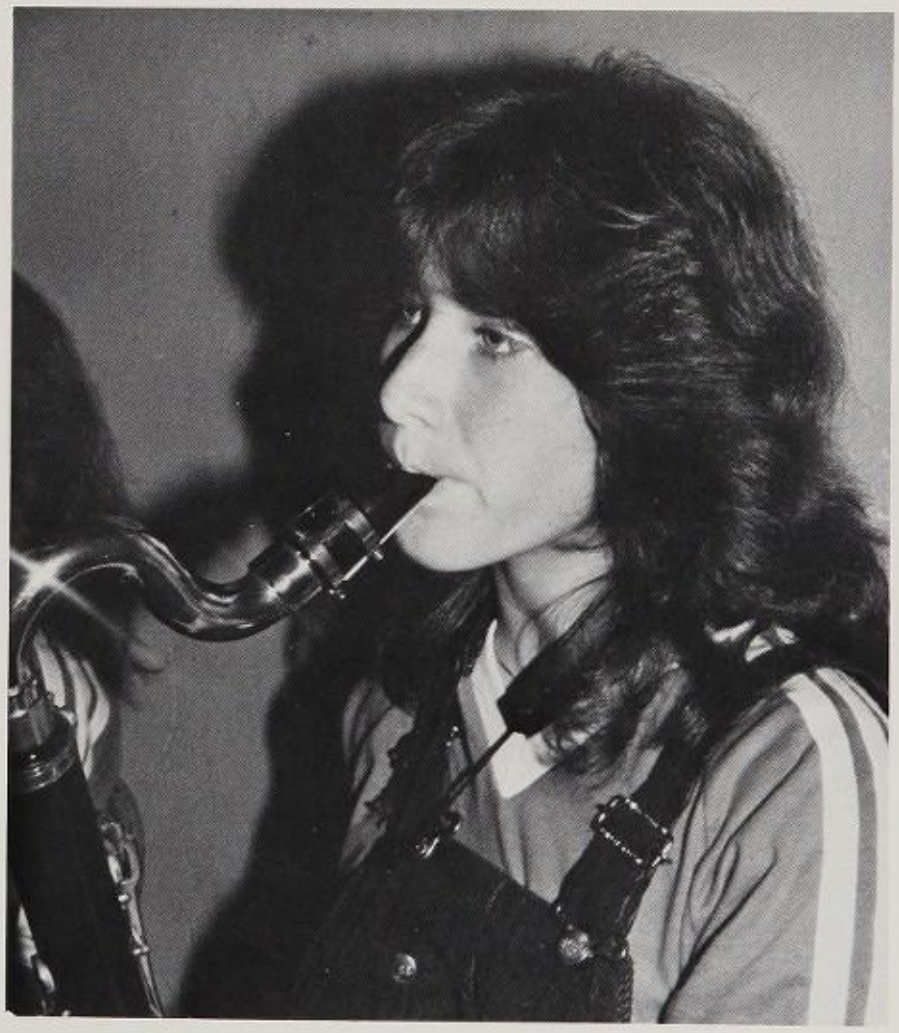
Under new direction this year, the orchestra students had a successful year of performance. Ed Gooding, the new director brought spirit and vitality to the orchestra group. "Orchestra gives the music student an opportunity to play better music than is normally played in band," stated Terry Adirim.

In December, the group performed a concert for the Coral Park students featuring their renaissance music and on March 6 & 7 they performed in solos and ensembles at Hialeah Miami Lakes Sr. High School.

"Most of the recognition has traditionally been given to the marching band, but with a new director and a revitalized spirit, the orchestra students shared the limelight this year at Coral Park," said Terry Adirim.

Rebecca McSwain skillfully masters the number that she has been practicing on her cello.

Determined to perfect her technique, Maria Zechel practices diligently in the bandroom after school.



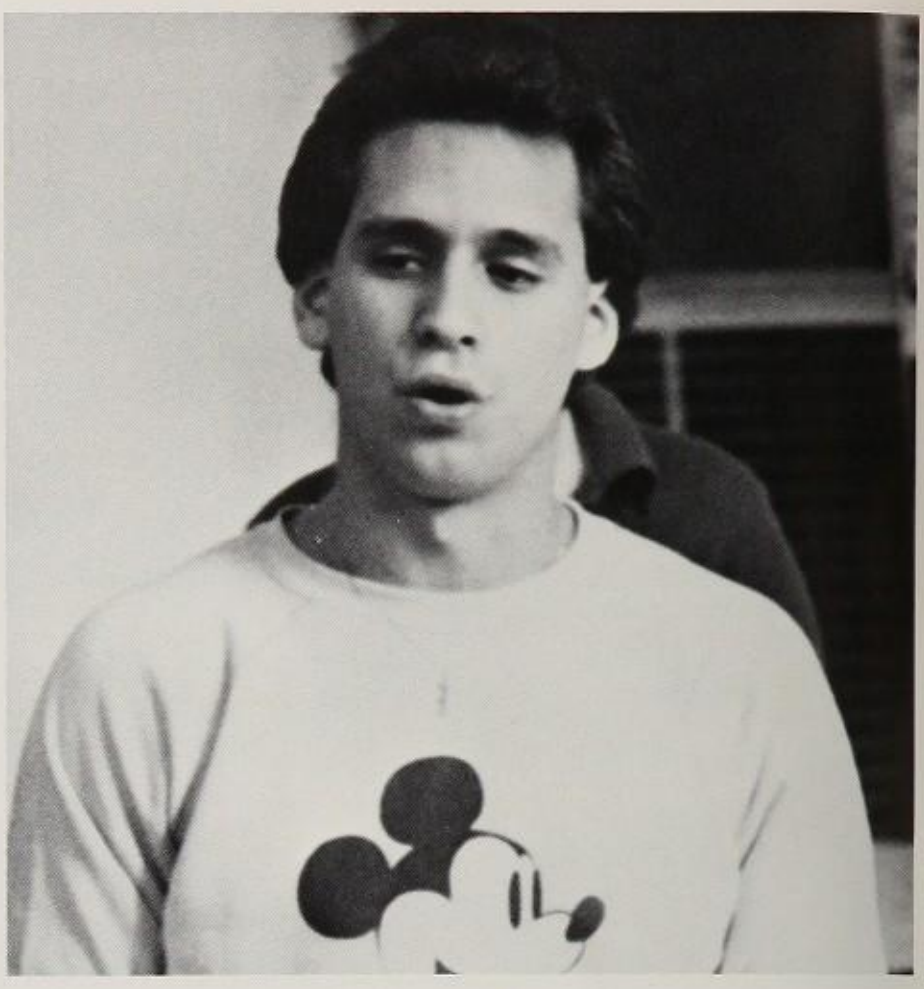
Elise Finkel, playing the bass clarinet, anxiously awaits her next cue from the conductor.

Chamber Singers prepare for a busy year of events

By Aimee Espinosa

A select group of dedicated students made up the Chamber Singers. Under the guidance of Mr. Philip Valente, the Chamber Singers have had a busy performing schedule this year. On October 21, they performed at F.I.U., and in February, at the Renaissance Fair at Viscaya. During the month of May, the Annual Tri-Festival was held. The Coral Park Chamber Singers, together with the Southwest and South Miami students, gave a concert which was held at South Miami High School.

"But along with the thrill of performing came a lot of hard work. Each student gave up much of their time for rehearsals, making costumes and raising money. I've spent more time in this room than in my own house!" stated singer and business manager Evelyn Puig.



Dreaming his way through class, Danny Fresco hums through the song at the same time.

Students practice constantly to improve Concert Chorus

By Maria E. Cardenas

When hard work, determination, and commitment were combined, the result was the concert chorus group. This year, under the direction of Mr. Phil Valente, the choral group participated in several shows. One performance included their unique interpretation of "The Twelve Days of Christmas".

During the spring, members had their annual concert in which they performed a variety of songs. As for the new choral recruits, Mr. Valente was very pleased with them. "We had a lot of excited and talented kids that made it a joy to be a chorus director," commented Mr. Valente. "Certainly the talent that exists among the members of the concert chorus group will be an aid for competition and success in the world of music," he concluded.

Girls support athletics by raising money for teams

BY ALICIA CORDOVA

Batgirls, Cagerettes, Trackettes, Soccerams, and Football Trainers supported the various athletic teams in the school by conducting doughnut sales, car washes, donations, and by selling particular game tickets. The girls raised money to buy uniforms, equipment, and to pay for the team's banquets at the end of the year.

The Cagerette squad, led by Captain Cindy Castillo, added a Cager Club. They were required to go to the basketball games and to wear uniforms. The new sponsor, Coach Miller, thought it would be a good idea to have many girls helping the team.

Batgirls helped the baseball team by picking up bats and keeping records. "Being a Batgirl was truly a fun part of high school," stated Karen Vera, a Batgirl officer. Soccerams, Trackettes, and Football Trainers also helped their individual teams and encouraged them whether they won or lost.

Junior Board displays unity, spirit at meetings

By: Sergio Garcia
Junior Class President

The Junior Board was able to achieve a sense of unity through many fund raisers and group meetings. The Class of '82 organized the Junior-Senior prom, which was held at the Fountainbleu-Hilton on Saturday, May 23, 1981. In order to financially support this costly event, the board sold holiday grams throughout the year. The Class of '82 sponsored the concession stand and a dance at Halloween Happenings. "The Class of '82 was constantly proposing new projects," stated advisor Roman Violyn. "Being vice president of the junior class was a real honor. I felt as if I could use my position to help promote spirit throughout the class," said Ileana Machado. The officers were: Sergio Garcia, president; Ileana Machado, vice-president; Evelyn Jacobson, secretary; and Debbie Feinstock, treasurer.

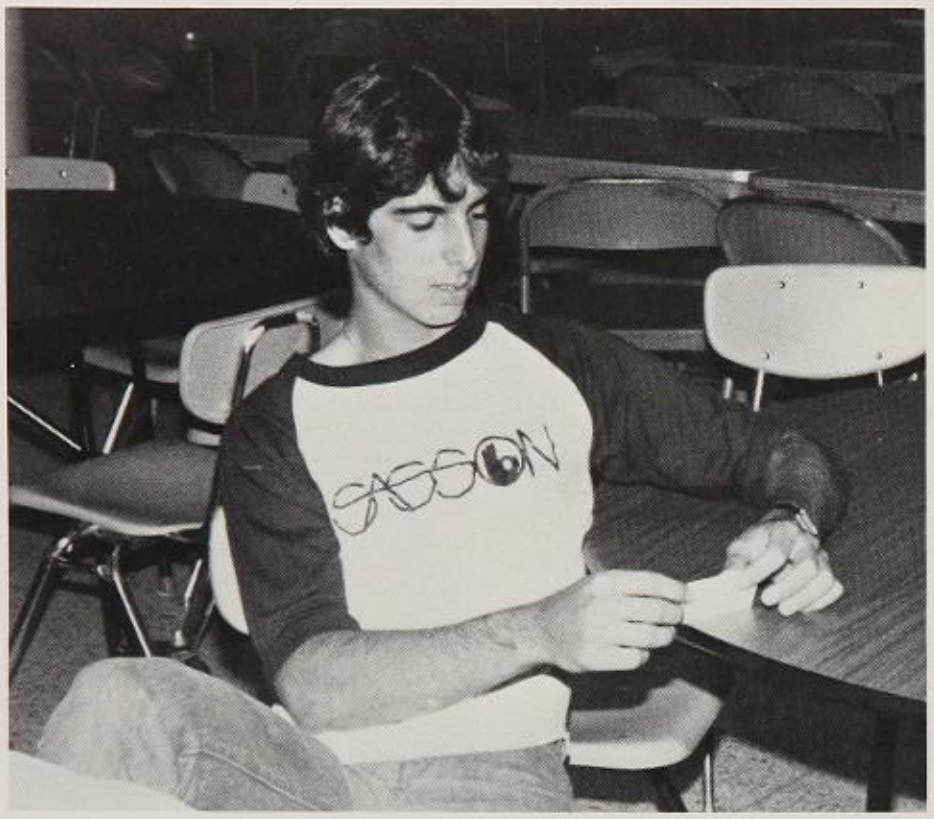
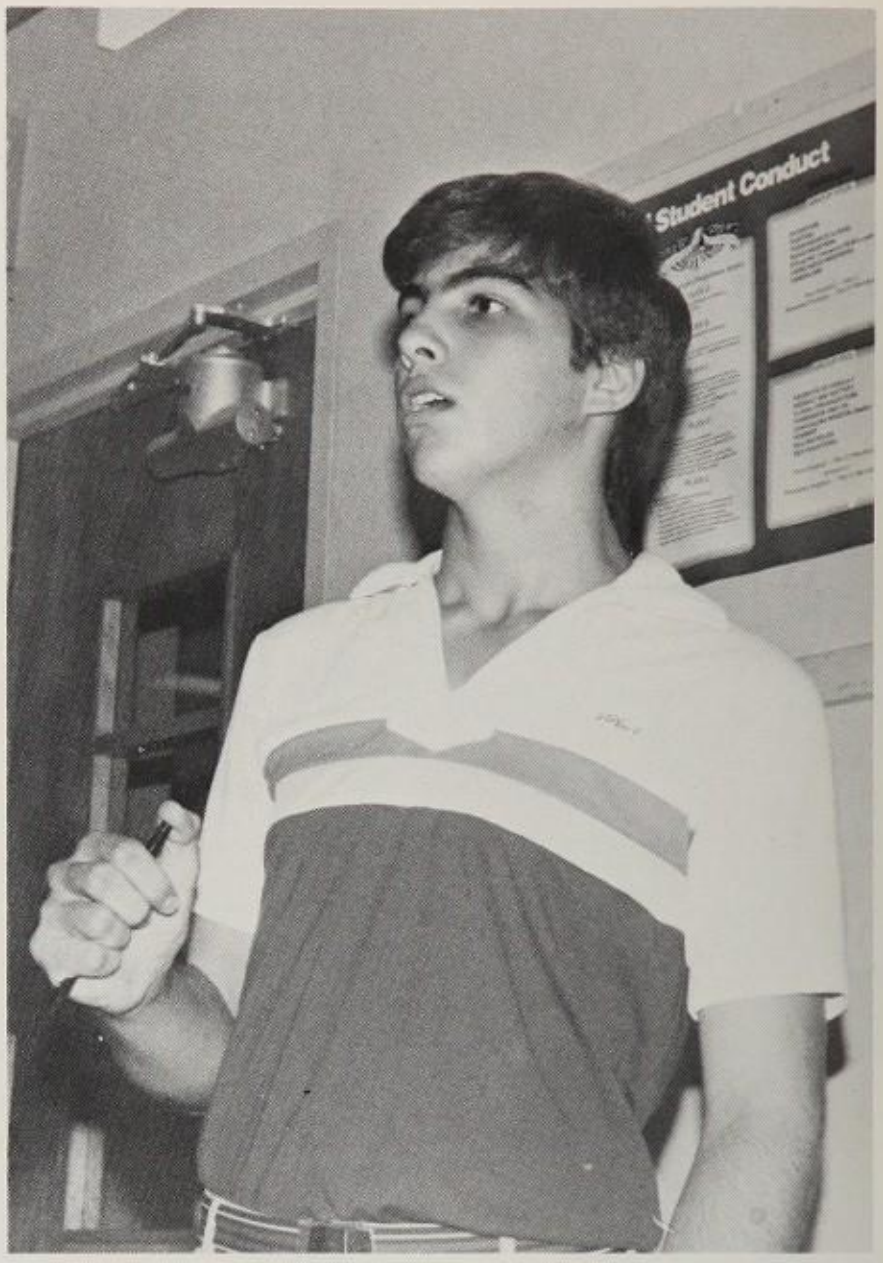
3rd Period English Labs



George Barsimantov looks over his representatives' card and realizes that he forgot to show it to his teacher.

Neil Deutsch listens carefully to Margaret Haley as she reviews an important aspect of a perplexing situation.



Sophomore Board chairman, Nivaldo Quintana lectures the representatives about the coming month.

During one of the many meetings, Sabrina Grimm takes a break to think of some new ideas.

Secretary Melanie Dernis listens intently while taking notes of the meeting.

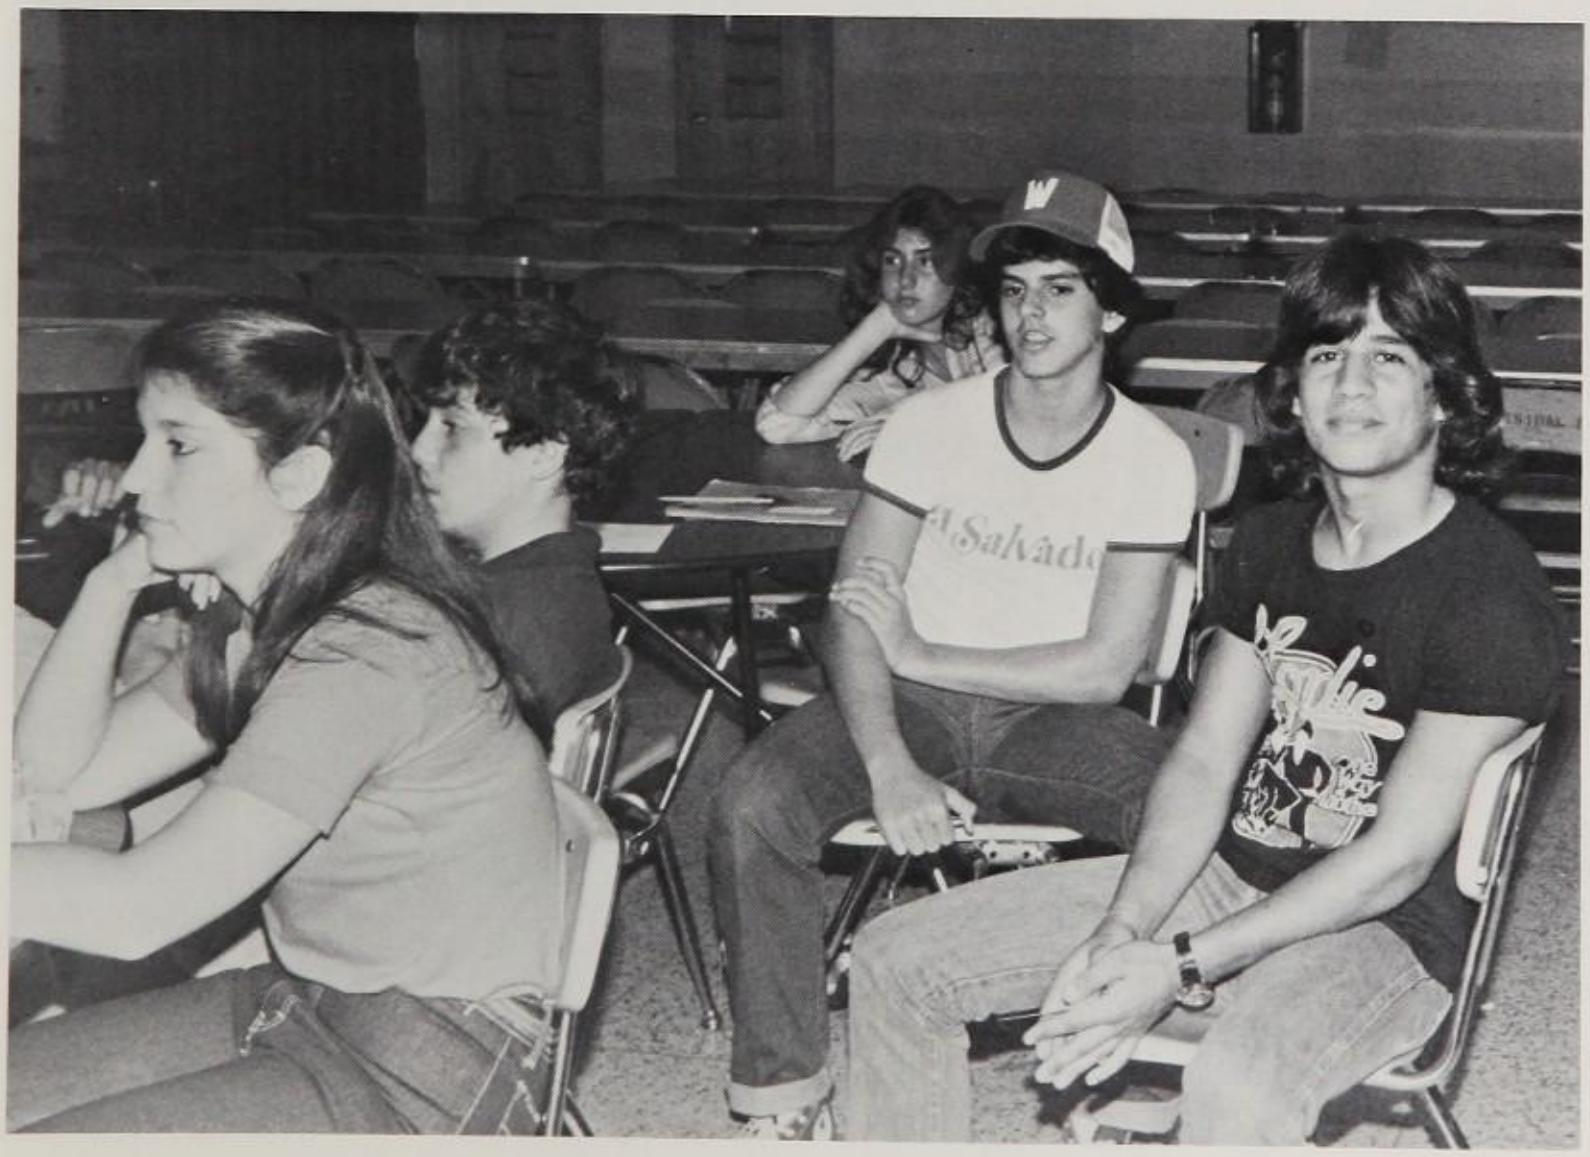
Sophomore Boards goal was to revive class of '83

By: Nivaldo Quintana
Sophomore Board President

Coming together as one united class was Sophomore Board's main concern this year. Sophomore Board tried to make the transition period for all Sophomores as smooth as possible.

In the spring, Sophomore Board went to various junior high schools from which students come to Coral Park. They presented a slide show showing some parts of the academic program at Coral Park and the activities of the various clubs which they can join. This was all part of getting the new "baby rams" to make a smooth transition from junior high to senior high.

Melanie Dernis, who was secretary, and I as your chairman, hope that the Class of '83 will have a happier high school career because of the efforts of this year's Sophomore Board.



While waiting for the meeting to begin, Patty Barreto, Sammy Danon, Sabrina Grimm, Hubert Riveron, and Manny Gonzalez, start settling in to discuss some matters.

Art Club members assist many in community projects

By Alicia Cordova

Art Interest got involved in many community projects this year. Members participated in painting large portions of the Campus Life Haunted House at Tamiami fairgrounds and the Haunted House for Halloween Happenings. In November several members attended the Harvest Festival and enjoyed painting clown faces. "It's fun doing a variety of things such as painting faces and attending art shows. This way, things do not become tedious or monotonous," commented President Jeannette Aquino. Members participated in the Vizcaya Festival of the Arts, the Coconut Grove Art Show, and held a dress-up contest in late October. "We had a great time and became closer to one another" stated Maria E. Cardenas, a member.

Chess Club members hold matches in complete silence

By Teresa Mykytka

The Coral Park Chess Club met every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon after school. They began their practicing in October and regenerated new interest to raise more members in November. These games were played for practice as well as enjoyment. "To play chess, you have to have a lot of concentration and set your mind on this strategical game," replied Jesus Martinez.

To bring more excitement and attention, the Chess Club held various matches against other students. All this practice led up to the competition against other Dade County schools for the district championship. The games were held in complete silence, contrary to most sports. A round robin was held at the end of the year between the top five chess players.

C.B.E. business students participate in competitions

By: Ana Hernandez

C.B.E. is the Cooperative Business Education Program, which is designed to train students and also help them to develop necessary business skills for their future.

Students participating in C.B.E. attended school fewer hours than most other students. After leaving school these students went to their jobs, all of which were business oriented. During the past year C.B.E. members were selected to participate in the county typing competition and the state competition in April.

"By being part of the C.B.E. program I have gained a greated sense of responsibility and experience in the business community," stated President, Leonor Robles.

"The C.B.E. program can offer the opportunity to go out into the business world and see what it is like to have a job you can really enjoy," said Jacqueline Brown, C.B.E. member.

Caritas members bring love and warmth to senior citizens

By Ana Martinez

A nursing home is the last resort for most senior citizens. It is often a place where the aged and sick retire to when they are considered a burden by a society that will no longer support them. Caritas tries to relieve this sadness by visiting the residents of Palmetto Extended Care Center every Sunday from 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. Caritas members bring love, care and warmth to an environment which would otherwise be void of these qualities.

"By visiting Palmetto, Caritas members not only shared their time, but also their attention with lonely people. They benefited from the experiences and the stories of the elderly, and in doing so, they reached out to understand the feelings of people who lived in an older, different world," commented President Ana Dopico.

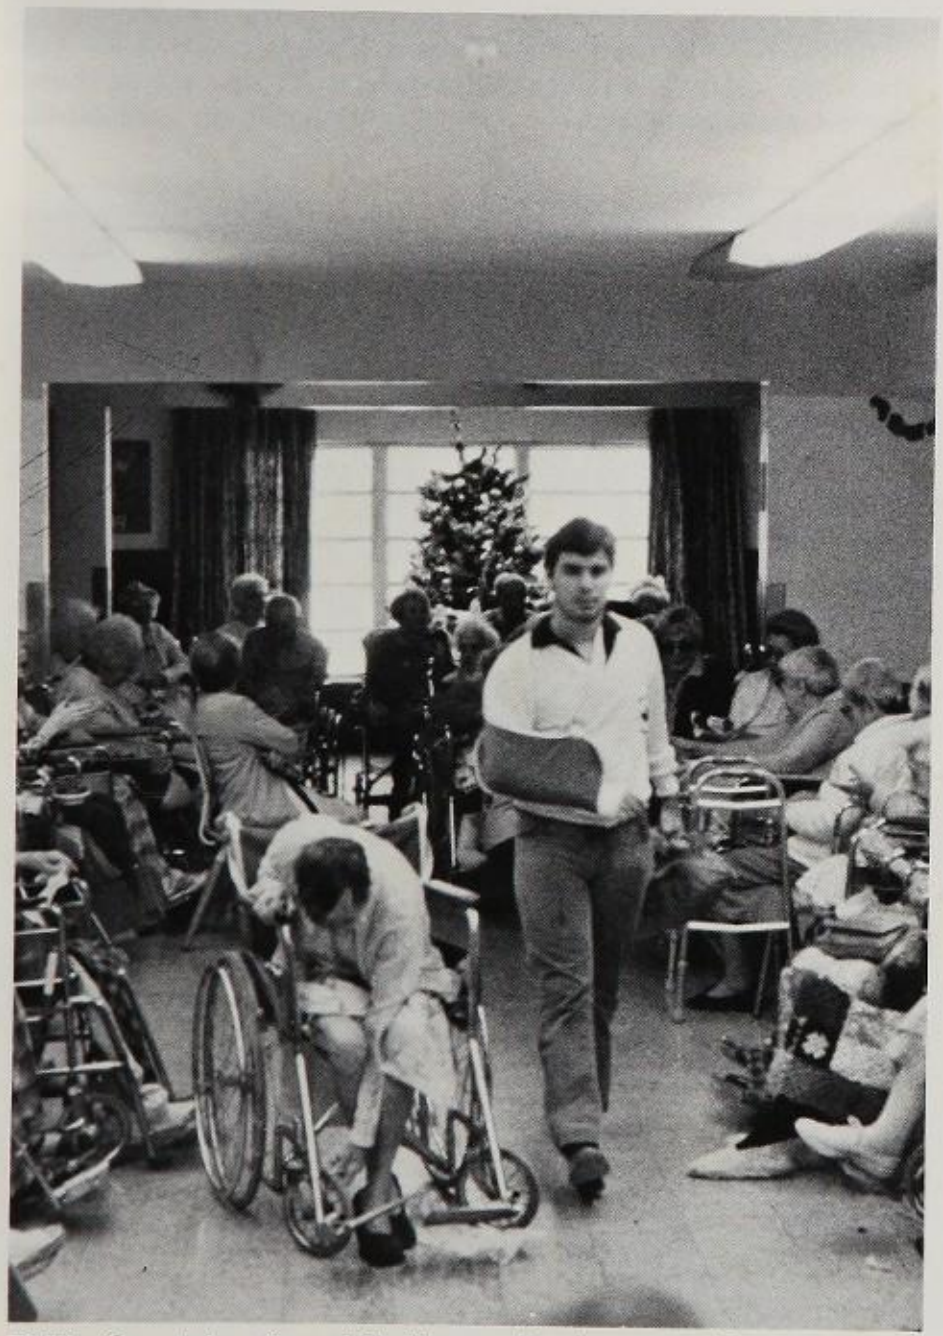
Taking the time out of a busy schedule Caritas member Ana Dopico spends her afternoon serving the needy.

Sharing some holiday love and good cheer Beatriz Taquechel and Santa Claus (Dan Arango) distributed many appreciated gifts.

Caritas club member Melanie Dernis stops to visit and talk awhile with Esther Sassie.

Caritas member Isabel Inguanzo helps out with some paper work.

Caritas member Miriam Ortega brings a little cheer and happiness into the lives of many elderly citizens at the nursing home.



Phillip Carratala often visits the nursing home on Sundays in order to bring cheer to some of the elderly citizens.

Caritas members gathered in order to give a Christmas party for the senior citizens at the nursing home.

For Civinettes year starts off with special olympics

By Alicia Cordova

Civinettes started off the school year with enthusiasm and spirit by going to the Special Olympics. This event was held many times throughout the year in order to give retarded children a chance to compete with one another in athletic events. "The special Olympics was an experience I'll never forget," stated Maria Avila, a faithful member. Aside from club meetings, jinx doll and poster workshops, and helping the community in general, the club had some major projects. In May, members had a community picnic with all the citizen advocates. They also put on a show at Suniland during Christmas, and took their advocates on various trips to movies, picnics, etc. "The three kids we took care of were really fun to be with. It's nice to see how much they learned," stated Maria Rivera, club treasurer.

D.C.T. club members stress learning through experience

By Cindy Krischer

Diversified Cooperative Training classes were held 1st through 3rd periods daily. Students in these classes learned about business and how to go about picking jobs. Emphasis was placed upon learning through experience. Through the DCT program, students were able to gain on-the-job training.

Throughout the year DCT students saw filmstrips to enhance their business knowledge. In September, both Mr. Mosso and Mr. Bow's classes went on a field trip to the Dade County Jail House and Court House. Students collected money throughout the year for St. Jude's Research Hospital. They also participated in a district DCT contest held in late November. "Our classes won 3rd place in the competition. I was very proud of them," stated Mr. Mosso, one of the club's sponsors. DCT students are members of the Cooperative Education Clubs of Florida and participated in activities for the association.

DECA students learn how to cope in the Business World

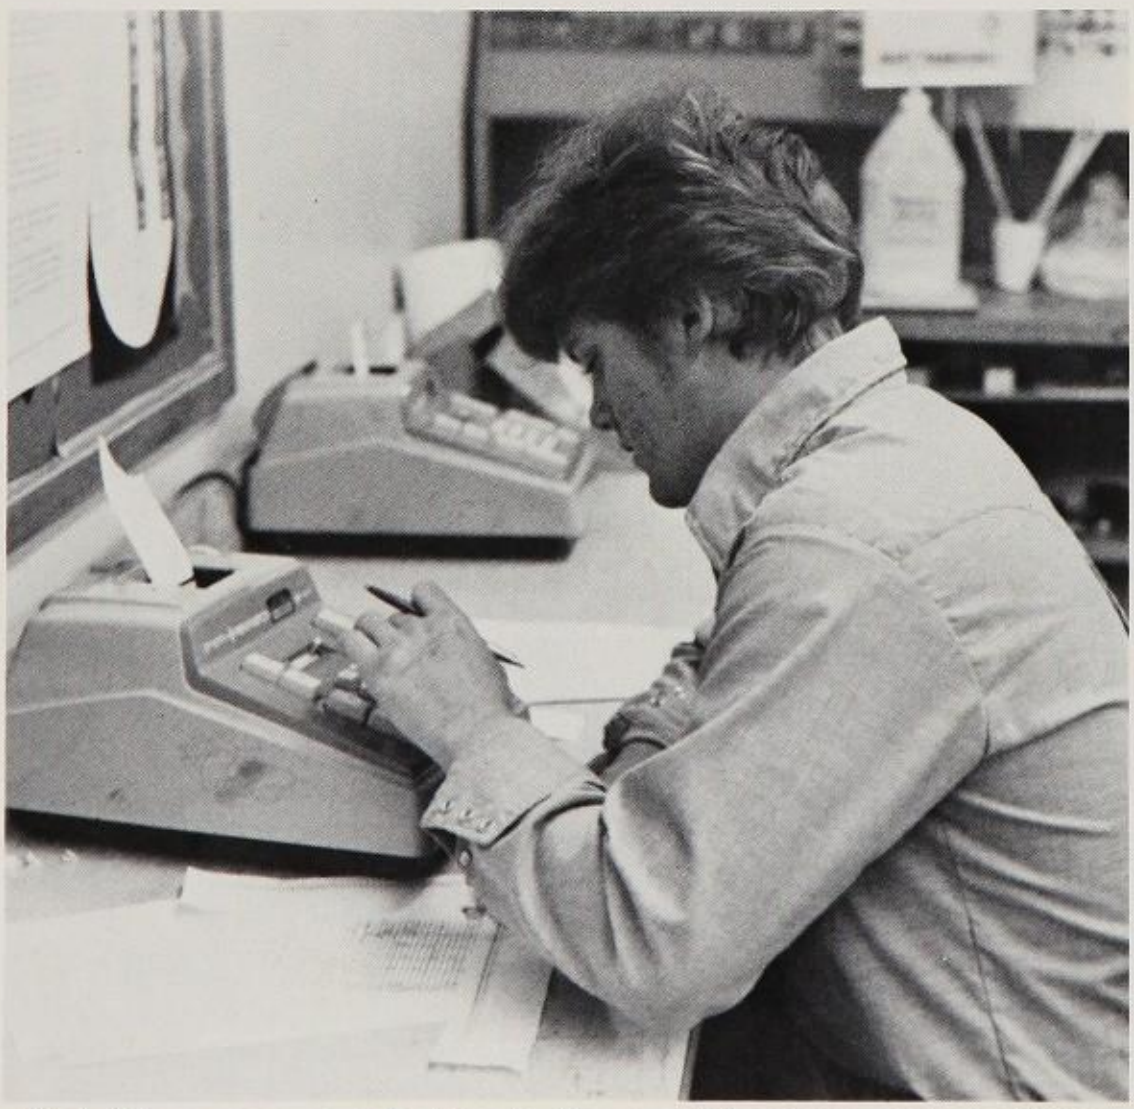
By Teresa Mykytka

DECA, the Distributive Education Clubs of America, is a class and club for selected students participating in the work program. Mr. George Long, the sponsor of DECA, worked along with his students to help them make the right work decisions and help them learn about advertising. They studied getting along in group related experiences, and other aspects of the business world.

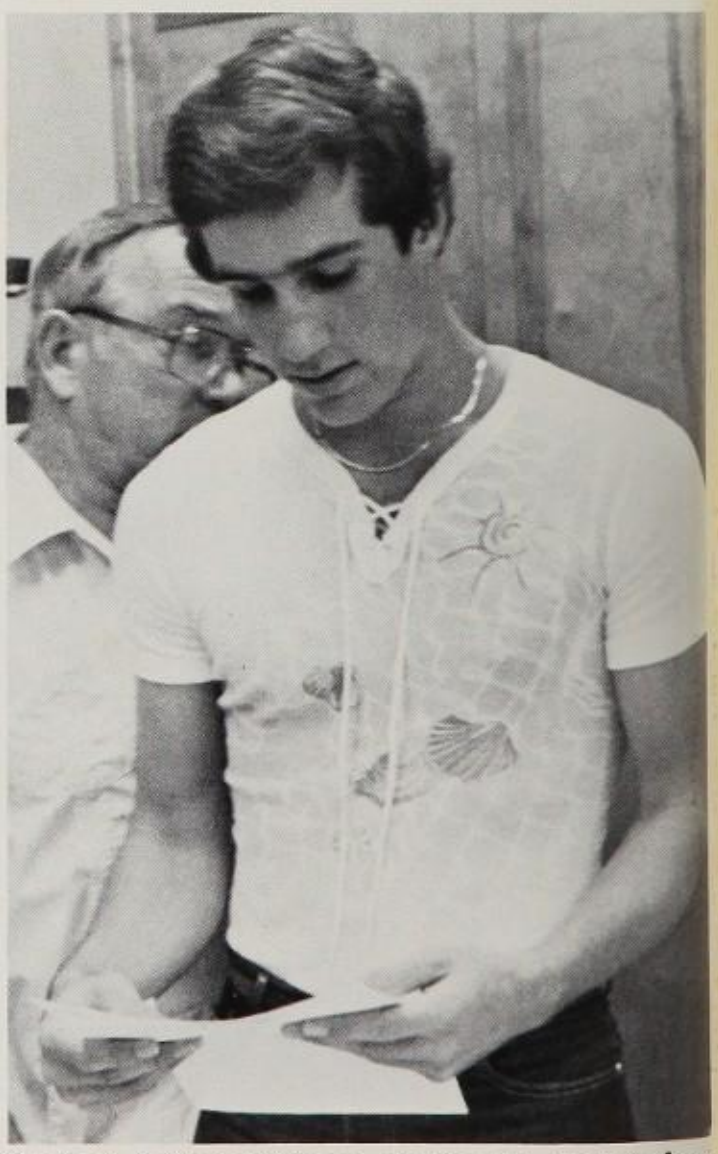
DECA was involved in various activities, such as selling candy and going to the Mayfair Shopping Center for the viewing and studying of advertising displays. DECA held breakfast meetings and they met with other DECA clubs throughout the area.

"Learning combined with fun is what DECA is all about," said senior Mayda Pena.

Ileana Crespo takes notes in her DECA class. Many students learn skills which can help them in future jobs.



Mark Cherry uses a calculator to figure out business math problems. Business skills are not only typing, and shorthand.



Student Anthony Alonso checks his work before handing it in to the teacher.

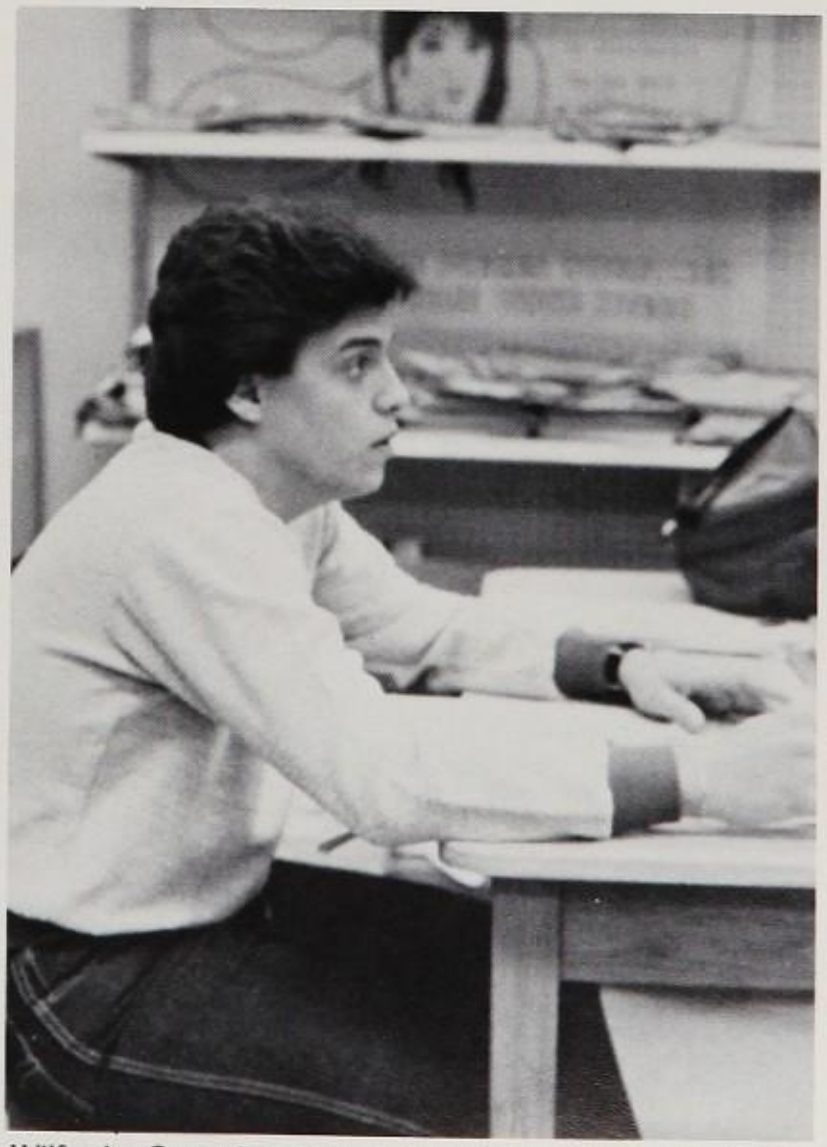
Mr. Long teases Gerald Alvarez about the way he does the work. DECA prepared students for different business jobs.

In the library, Rosa Hernandez and Lisette Alvarez took time off from their DECA project to smile at the camera.



Wilfredo Gonzalez listens carefully in class. He knows Business Ed is good for many things.

Bat Girls add inspiration and support to team

By Ana Pineda

The adage that behind every man is a great woman could not be more true for the Coral Park baseball team. Bat Girls and Diamond Club was one of the main supportive and inspirational factors the team depended upon. Among the Bat Girls' list of endless activities included the gathering of statistical information, and the collecting of newspaper articles for each player's scrapbook. Additional duties that the Bat Girls were responsible for included: fund-raising for supplementary equipment needed by the team, the grooming of the baseball field, manning the concession booth, and the promotion of team spirit by serving as the pep squad. "Everyone was enthusiastic and cooperative. It was a great year," stated captain Karen Vega.

Equestrian Club takes place in horse shows at the Youth Fair

By Teresa Mykytka

Students interested in horses have reopened an equestrian club. The club was first chartered in 1970 and had lost it's members through the years. Under the direction on Robin Ford, they participated in various activities to regenerate interest for the group.

The Equestrian Club has taken part in horse shows in the fall, riding clinics in the winter and at the Youth Fair. There were various fund raisers such as car washes in November and December and they participated in Halloween Happenings.

The club had two goals. "One of our goals this year was to produce our own horse show," commented Robin Ford, sponsor. "We wanted to reopen this club to share our love for horses. Hopefully, we will remain strong," stated Soraya Valdes, vice president.

Officers: President — Lisette Montequin, Vice-President, Soraya Valdes, Secretary — Marcie Dymond, Treasurer — Marta Diaz

English Honor Society helps students to study by tutoring

By Teresa Mykytka

English Honor provided tutoring during the school year for students in all grade levels. The members primarily helped juniors with English projects such as research papers. In addition to tutoring, the honor society published a multilingual literary magazine. "This year, the English Honor Society stressed communication through the written word," explained President Marti Rosenberg. The honor society was instrumental in bringing both the practical qualities of the English language and the aesthetic qualities of English literature to Coral Park's student body.

A favorite fund raising project of the honor society was selling used books. Members sold the books at Halloween Happenings and the flea market. The society also sold concessions at basketball games.

Local FBLA club excels in mastering office skills

By: Ana Hernandez

F.B.L.A. is one of the best ways for a student interested in a business career to receive the basic and necessary business skills for a successful future. Many of Coral Park's students were aware of this fact and made F.B.L.A. the largest club at school, this past year.

The Future Business Leaders of America chapter sponsored by Mrs. Blondell Browning participated in various business related activities throughout the year. One of these being the County and State competitions held in February and April.

"I've gained a great deal of knowledge about the business world this past year, which I know will help me a lot in my future business career. Joining this club was one of the most important things I did last year," stated Ernesto Aguirrechu, F.B.L.A. member.

F.B.L.A. President Karen Vera takes time to discuss club activities with Mrs. Browning, club sponsor.

Largest F.B.L.A. offers opportunities for the future

By: Ana Hernandez

F.B.L.A. one of the largest clubs in Coral Park, offered many opportunities to students interested in the growing world of business. It gave members the necessary experiences of learning what the business world is all about.

The F.B.I.A. chapter sponsored by Mrs. Chewning was the largest F.B.L.A. in the school, with eighty members. These students worked hard all year obtaining business skills in order to enhance their future as Future Business Leaders of America. F.B.L.A. members were invited to compete in a Dade County business competition held in April.

"F.B.L.A. has given me the opportunity to investigate my potential in the world of business. I will never forget what it has done for me," stated Daisy Hernandez, President.

Club officers Daisy Hernandez, Melvy Santana, Julie Higgins and Nanette Sepulveda work to achieve their goal.

Future Business Leaders of America grows strong

By Ana Hernandez

For obtaining the experience and the skill needed to succeed in the business world, students at Coral Park joined F.B.L.A.. An experience within itself, F.B.L.A. provided a feeling of achievement for those students interested in business future.

This past year Mrs. Hissa's Future Business Leaders of America club participated along with other F.B.L.A. groups in the Dade County business competition in February. Later in April they competed in the State competition.

Due to increased enthusiasm and a desire to learn about business, F.B.L.A. grew remarkably in membership this past year.

"F.B.L.A. has taught me how to handle myself and how to achive the goals I have set for myself in my job!" stated Edelsy Estevez, F.B.L.A. member.

F.B.L.A. Club works hard to achieve goal

By Ana Hernandez

Learning how to be a good business leader was the major goal of F.B.L.A. By providing special business education Future Business Leaders of America club members worked continuously to achieve this goal.

F.B.L.A. members went to various field trips throughout the year. These trips introduced them to business offices and other jobs related to business education. Trips were organized by club sponsor Ms. Weber. Members also participated in the annual county typing competitions in February and the state competition in April.

"As an officer of F.B.L.A. I now realize the hard work that goes into making a successful club. I don't regret it. It was hard work but a worthwhile experience," stated Haydee Garcia.

"F.B.L.A. helped me decide what career I wanted," said Jose Carrera.

French Club takes part in a variety of school functions

By Marlene Braga

French Interest, a club open to all students concerned with the beauty and culture of France, got off to a great start with many different and interesting ideas. "French Interest strives to bring the beauty of French culture to our school and provides for the students a new and enriching perspective," stated President Beatriz Taquechel. Members participated in various extra-curricular activities, and took part in a variety of school functions. In October, French Interest manned a booth for Halloween Happenings selling French bread and also marched in the homecoming parade on November 20. "It's fun to be able to learn how other people live and love as the French say. Being in French Interest has helped me understand the ways of another country," commented Alicia Cordova, vice-president.

French Honor gives a party for migrant workers

By Marlene Braga

Tutoring students, visiting foster homes, and giving a Christmas party for migrant workers were a few of the many activities the French Honor Society participated in. "This year we wanted to do more than just tutor students after school. We felt that as an honor society we should try to aid our community in any way we can. That way, we are giving as much of ourselves as possible," stated President Teresa Garcia-Pons. French Honor members, however, had a bit of fun, too. A Christmas party was held in December and several members saw various French movies such as "La Cage Aux Folles" and "Second Chance." "French Honor is a reward for students who have worked hard," commented Sponsor Yolanda Kellogg.

This year's president of Inter Club Council was Paula Schwartzman. "I feel we accomplished a lot of things. It is also a good chance for the club presidents to get together and discuss their problems," said Paula.

This year, like many others, I.C.C. sponsored such activities like Club Day and Halloween Happenings on October 25. I.C.C. sponsored the Club of the Month contest in which one service club, and one interest club were chosen each month for their outstanding achievements.

On October 19, I.C.C. held a Leadership Day for club officers. "Leadership Day taught me a lot of things that I wasn't aware of, as a club president, I thought Leadership Day helped me greatly," said Miriam Ortega, president of Civinettes.

"The Inter Club Council has promoted unity and cooperation among all of Coral Park's clubs and honor societies," stated Ana Dopico, president of National Honor Society.

Italian Club aides needy earthquake victims of Italy

By Teresa Mykytka

Italian Interest members had the opportunity to get closer to Italy this year. In the past, members only made contact with the culture by selling pizza and holding their banquet in an Italian restaurant. Members this year worked diligently in collecting clothing for the victims of an earthquake which devastated Southern Italy.

"We felt badly about what happen to those poor people, so we got together and decided to do something about it," stated Ginger Young, Italian Interest member. With several active members, Italian Interest was involved in numerous school events. They participated in Halloween Happenings and had a float in the Homecoming parade. Italian Interest joined with Italian Honor Society for many of their fund raising events. "Italian Interest seeks to unify all the foreign language interest groups in Coral Park and I think we have succeeded!" concluded Ginger.

Italian Honor pioneers in needed study of languages

BY ALICIA CORDOVA

Italian is the closest outgrowth of Latin and its importance should be emphasized since it is so valuable as a basis for studying other languages. To do this, Italian Honor members assisted in language programs in the elementary schools with the objective of encouraging students to study many languages. Aside from Halloween Happenings and the Homecoming Parade, they participated with community leaders in encouraging greater funding for foreign language studies.

"I believe it necessary to pioneer in the study of languages and I intend to put my full efforts in engendering the need in elementary school. In this way, when a student reaches high school, he will be fully aware of the importance of language to secure better employment," stated Mrs. Joan Cormier, sponsor.

Interact members proves to be more enthusiastic

BY HEIDI MARINO

"Membership increased, and this year's Interact members pro- to be more enthusiastic," exclaimed Raul Arrazcreta, Interact president.

Intereact had many fund-raising activities and aided service organizations during the year. Late in October, members helped the Rotary Club by selling plants for Muscular Distrophy. At Thanksgiving, they gave a turkey bakset to a needy family. Before Christmas Interact sponsored a toy drive for needy children. In Feburary they were marshals in the Elizabeth Arden Classic. All the funds from the projects went to sick children.

Interact also kept an all-year winning football team. "The school year 1980-1981 was one of commitment for Interact to service for both the school and the community," stated Ernest Moses, Interact sponsor.

Kwan members take part in many cultural activities

By Pierre Dwyer

Observation and contemplation were activities performed by all Kwan members. The club attended various theatre performances throughout the year and held meetings once a month. Kwan organized a theatre party to see Hamlet at the Player's State Theatre in Coconut Grove on November 26. "Through Kwan, I was able to experience a wide variety of cultural activities," said Jan Weiss, vice-president.

Other officers for the club were Ernie Lanza, president; Maryli Marcos, secretary; and Dan Arango, Treasurer. Dr. Bert Moss was sponsor for the club.

"Kwan attempts to capture the various aspects of the cultural arts through plays, operas, museums, ballets and the like. As a first year Kwan member, I experienced the exhilaration of seeing the American Ballet Theatre," remarked member Nivaldo Quintana.

Key Club members assist with Jerry Lewis Telethon

By Bill Tedesco

This past year Key Club brought pride and recognition to Coral Park by donating their time helping the community. Key Club members assisted in the Jerry Lewis Telethon, in the Afterschool House, the American Cancer Society, and the Ronald McDonald House project. "We've done great things and built a sense of responsibility in our members," stated President Dan Arango.

With "Dare to Influence" as their theme, Key Club went to Daytona Beach for their annual convention. "We Key Clubbers always put forth our best effort to look good among our peers," sputtered member Barbara Centeni. Dancers experience thrill of performing on stage

By Pierre Dwyer

After the first few weeks of school, the Modern Dance Club began practices after school. They prepared for the Christmas show held on December 11 and 12. The theme was "I'd Rather be Dancing." The club also had a spring show on May 28 and 29.

The officers for Modern Dance were as follows: Jessica Collazo, president; Norma Fernandez, vice-president; Susie Alvarez, secretary; Alex Matz, treasurer; Denise Diaz, production manager. Modern Dance Club provides anyone with the opportunity to create and develop art," said Jessica Collazo.

"Modern Dance Club provides an opportunity to experience the thrill of performing on stage. Most people "die of stage fright" the first time the curtain opens, but their experience is such a boost to their self-confidence. After it's over they can't wait for the next show," explained Mrs. Nancy Perez, club sponsor.

Honor Society aids others while earning high grades

National Honor Society
By: Bill Tedesco

Lisa Weeks and Karin Trimble take notes in the library as their teacher lectures. Good grades is a major part of the club.

National Honor Society is an organization which deals with the scholastic excellence. To qualify as a member students must have a 3.4 overall average or above and must have leadership, dedication and character, qualities which are essential to being a member. Ana Dopico, president of National Honor stated, "N.H.S. does not exist solely for scholastic distinction, it encourages the development of responsibility and character.

This past year activities included tutoring at elementary schools, helping out with a Thanksgiving with a food drive and participating in a contest called "Brain Brawl."

"I had a great time this year. I felt it was an honor being with such an intelligent, dedicated, and responsible group," concluded Barbara Centero, N.H.S. district president.

Math Honor members assist students in many math subjects

By Ed Rimland

Florida Mathematics League tests, the State Mu Alpha Theta convention, and the National Math Test are just but a few of the many activities sponsored this year by the Math Honor Society. Mr. Frank Caballero, the club's new sponsor, supervised The Florida Mathematics League tests which were administered to over 100 students each month. Coral Park consistently ranked first place in the county and fourth in the state. In addition to these competitions, the honor society sponsored free tutoring sessions each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Members assisted students in subjects ranging from advanced algebra to general mathematics. "We tried to increase the number of projects we sponsor each year so students could gain a greater interest in mathematics, commented Edward Rimland, Math Honor president.

Tri-M and new sponsor strive for better discipline

By Teresa DeFrancesco

This year Modern Music Masters had a new sponsor, Mr. Edward Gooding, who encouraged the honor society to have better organization and discipline. To be eligible for Tri-M, members needed a 3.6 average in music and a 2.6 average in all subject. "Tri-M is a unique honor society because students apply for membership and then must be accepted. This makes everyone work harder and it adds spirit to the group," commented Vice-president Marti Rosenberg.

Tri-M performed at all football games and also performed concerts for neighboring schools. "Tri-M is a good honor society to have because it gives music to student and a chance to participate in something other than their regular musical groups", remarked Jenny Penkosky, Tri-M president.

Social Studies honor holds mock elections for students

By: Sofie Vilar

Social Studies Honor is designed to promote interest in the social sciences through participation in activities in local, state, and national levels. Members were required to have at least one semester of a social studies class with an average of 4.0 in any honors class and a total average of at least 3.0.

The mock elections, which consisted of a student candidate that had to have had a campaign manager and also a treasurer, must have raised money inside of school which followed specific guidelines. The mock elections were held four years ago and this year they were held on November 4. The club was made up of students wanting to learn the past and future of the world.

"Social Studies Honor plans to become a more active club by helping the Young Democrats and Teenage Republicans, commented Ernie Lanza.

Honor students make science an easier class

By: Bill Tedesco

The Science Honor Society prides itself for the outstanding achievements its members have in the field of science. Science Honor created an enthusiastic atmosphere for its members to help others by tutoring. During March 19 through 29, they assisted students who wished to participate in Science fairs. "This club is a lot of fun. It also looks great on one's record!" stated Sergio Akselrad. Together with the help of their sponsor, Mr. Bill Gunn, they helped to break down the "difficulties" of science to the students. With this help, many students found science to be an exciting and interesting class and a lot easier than they had thought.

"This year we strove to combine scientific knowledge with service to benefit us, the school, and the community," stated Lourdes Tallet, Science Honor Society President.

Quill & Scroll members attend writing convention

By: Cindy Krischer

Qualifying members for Quill and Scroll, journalism honor society, must have a "B" average and must be a second semester junior.

Club projects this year included attending a seminar on journalism at F.I.U. on October 14th. "The seminar provided new journalism ideas," stated Ana Dopico, seminar student director. Quill and Scroll funded a picnic for Coral Park and Sunset's journalism classes held in November. During the middle of the year members gave an appreciation luncheon for English faculty because of their cooperation. The club was responsible for partially funding one student's trip to the Columbia Scholastic New York Convention in March. Thespians start year with blow your horn tryouts

By: Ken Merker

Opening with try-outs for Neil Simon's play "Come Blow Your Horn" in October, Thespian Society Troupe 63 began a year full of activities. During Halloween Happenings they sold food at one of the many booths.

The Thespians participated in many competitions in the past year. They studied and wrote scripts on the history of Florida which they later performed at the Historical Society Harvest Festival, November 22-23. Late in the year they performed at an individual competition at the Universtiy of Miami, and the Renaissance Fair at Vizcaya. March 5-7, the Thespians performed at the State Thespian Conference in Miami. "The Thespians worked exceptionally hard this year. We had the chance to compete in many acting competitions and perform plays for the school," stated Steve Wheeler, Thespian president.

SOLVE members encourage counsel of refugee students

By Heidi Marino

SOLVE Means seek, observe, learn, volunteer and educate. SOLVE started a new program of counseling refugee students in their new environment. Their objective was to share knowledge of mental illness, and help each other grow in the process.

SOLVE club members participated in the Salute of Life mental health workshop during January. Through the entire year, club members went to various seminars of self-awareness and invited numerous guest speakers from the Mental Health Association to come speak to them. "One of the major goals of the SOLVE club was to help encourage a spirit of cooperation within the school community," said Betty Davis.

"I enjoyed being a SOLVE member. Helping refugees gave me the incentive with their social problems. It's difficult to continue living in a new environment," stated Ela Rivero, Historian.

Sorrota launches the year by servicing the community

By Marlene Braga

Sorrota Service Club launched into the new year with many different and exciting ideas to enhance and better the community. Members, old and new, worked diligently with a readiness to serve those in need. Members participated weekly in the after school house, an organization working with the under-privileged children from project homes. Also, working with the March of Dimes, the Cancer Society, and Variety Children's Hospital, Sorrota continued to work with competence and efficiency. Having helped the Leukemia Society sell tickets to a skating party in late November, members achieved recognition as a result of their hard work. "Sorrota has come back strong since last year. Spanish Honor Club tutors students studying language

By Teresa Mykytka

"Spanish Honor Society strives to help those students who need strengthening in any particular area by tutoring after school," stated Lissette Alvarez, president of Spanish Honor Society. Members worked diligently tutoring daily after school in an effort to aid those students who faced difficulties in the Spanish language. Aside from tutoring, members held fund raising activities in an effort to increase their treasury, manned a booth in Halloween Happenings, and sold "Giftables" in December. One of their bigger projects included a toy drive for orphaned children.

Council helped bridge gap between students, teachers

Student Council consists of a group of students in the school who are interested in the school's government. Under the direction of Miss Eads, they worked hard during the school year for the students and our school. "Student Council serves as a bridge between the students and teachers," commented president Bill Tedesco.

Many activities were conducted throughout the year. The Student Council supported many of our football games. For the Southwest game, they conducted the Purple Feather Contest. They also sponsored the traditional Homecoming Dance on November 14th, followed by the Homecoming parade on the 20th of November. In the earlier portion of the year, they had the annual United Way Fund Drive, in which they raised over one-thousand dollars. Activity weeks were sponsored by the Council throughout the year.

Audio Visual gets the recognition it deserves

BY GABY PUELLO

The formation of the Video Technicians Club has given the students of the Audio Visual Department the sense of identity they have long deserved. "The fact that they were able to participate in school activities and actually win some of these activities, has given the members a great feeling of responsibility and sort of a family togetherness," said Mrs. Kathy Gomez, A.V. Club advisor.

"The Video Technicians have acquired a lot of information in this field and should prosper in the future with their knowledge," stated President Warren Lubow, when asked what opportunities are available to A.V. club members.

"The formation of the club has increased the efficiency of the Audio Visual Department," said Mrs. Gomez, explaining the club's contributions to the school.

Young Democrats prepare for their future in politics

BY SAMMY DANON

Through learning the facts of our political system, many Young Democrats prepared themselves for a future in the critical world of politics. This club was involved with the local political system. The club members helped politicians with their elections. In doing this they extended the candidate's ideas to the student body and the local community. Through being involved with local politics, club members expanded their knowledge about the community while trying to help solve many of the community's problems.

"Young Democrats has really improved this year. We have built up the membership and participated in more projects and activities. The club has paved the way to a strong foundation for next year's club," said Jorge Perez, club president.

Administrators encourage a responsible attitude from the student body

By Sergio Garcia

The main goal of Coral Park's administration was to help students have more responsible attitudes toward their school and to become more aware of their part in the community. Administrators had the job of setting up discipline guidelines and maintaining the moral values. "We want students to mature during their years in high school, enabling them to better face the challenges that are presented to them once they leave here," commented assistant-principal Joseph McNulty.

"Students should feel free to see me whenever they have a question concerning the school's functions. It is one of my basic responsibilities," stated Principal Daniel Wagner. The administrators took measures this year to alleviate truancy by enforcing attendance procedures. "Attendance improved to fourth among all high schools this year," concluded Mr. McNulty.

Guidance Department helps students in preparing for future academics

By Gaby Puello

The Guidance Department at Coral Park is made available to the student body in order to assist and advise the students in making decisions. The guidance counselors had a major role in the administration of the Florida State Assessment Test which took place during the first two weeks of October.

During the first week of March, the occupational specialist organized Career Week. Students were given the opportunity to ask questions of representatives from numerous professions. "We try to get students thinking about different careers," stated Dorothy Day, career specialist.

Possibly the most important thing the counselors did throughout the year was assisting students with information concerning various colleges and courses. "We talk about different colleges and vocations," stated Dr. Robert Lurtz, department chairman.

Language Arts Department emphasizes vital and necessary basic skills

By Sergio Garcia

Language arts teachers stressed the basic skills and development of reading and writing in order to prepare students for college and work. They have provided general background information in literature and literary works. In emphasizing these important skills, the teachers feel that their students are leaving English classes with a more confident attitude.

"In placing importance in the general skills area, we as teachers, feel that students are more prepared to face the challenges of the outside world," stated Mary Ruth Fowler, language arts department chairperson. "Basic skills are emphasized because they become imperative in the future," stated Mr. Ernest Moses, English teacher. English teachers set up after school workshops to help their students. This, in turn, assured the students that they would get the help that they needed.

Mathematics Department constant evaluation of courses benefit students

By Jane Sapp

The math department offered various courses this year according to the students' needs. In addition, a big part of the mathematics program was improving the courses that were already being offered to students. This year, instead of just one semester of math review, two semesters were offered. The second semester was geared primarily toward preparing students to pass college entrance examinations. In some math classes, audio-visual units were used as teaching aids. Teachers often encouraged students to stay after school so that they could be tutored in their areas of weakness. "We are constantly evaluating our course offerings and teaching methods and students' placement procedures in order to improve the quality of the mathematics program," stated Mrs. Hazel McLendon, department head.

Social Studies Department emphasizes politics during this election year

By Sammy Danon

This year social studies added a geography course for sophomores instructed by Mr. Robert Mandell. Teachers hope that this course will become a popular choice for sophomores next year. Government classes dealt with state, federal, and local government. Students also had to compare Americanism with Communism. Those students in Honors and A.P. History took a U.S. History test for three college credits. The Social Studies Honors Club participated in the college fair in November. Ms. Ofelia Hirigoyen sponsored the Close-Up program for all Dade County schools.

"Social studies teachers placed a strong emphasis on studying the electoral college system. It is our hope that an amendment is forthcoming to abolish this antiquated method of electing our president," said Mr. Robert Kuehneisen, department chairman.

Science Department involves students in Community Lab Research

By Nivaldo Quintana

The Science Department, with Michael Brennan as its new chairman, participated in many activities throughout the year. Students involved in the Community Lab Research Program worked after school with professional scientists in lab related experiments.

The science fair was held March 16. Some students began early in the year building bridges and researching projects as well as other experiments. One change this year was a move by Coach Luis Brande from the Government Department to the Science Department. He replaced Ms. Hilda Gonzalez who taught bilingual biology last year. Another addition to the science department was the purchase of some new equipment. Two portable power suppliers and a laser were bought this year. An oscilloscope and considenable apparatus for the Marine Science Program were also purchased.

Foreign languages let students further enjoy multi-cultured Miami

By Ken Merker

The desire to speak and understand foreign languages has grown rapidly at Coral Park. Students have shown increasing enthusiasm toward learning foreign languages, especially in multi-culture Miami. "Knowing a foreign language in Dade County is no longer a luxury. There are countless languages spoken in Miami, and a student knowing several languages will benefit in the future," remarked Mrs. Maureen Bodea, chairperson of the Foreign Language Department.

In March, students had the opportunity to prove their oral fluency in French, Spanish, and Italian at the Dade County Youth Fair. During the spring, French students participated in oral and written tests. "Through the years, Coral Park has always placed high among its competitors," stated Yolanda Kellogg, French teacher.

Together, Sharon Israel, Denise Chapman, and Mr. Pedro Diaz read and do the oral exercises in the book during Spanish class.

P.E. instructors believe exercise and individual sports are essential

By Ana Inguanzo

Coral Park's 18th year of co-ed marching competitions was highlighted by new goals for new teachers, who encouraged student participation.

Following the co-ed marching competitions, there came a time for students to choose one sport which interested them most. Students enjoyed the physical activities which were offered. These choices included football, gymnastics, and soccer.

Pre-class, which included jumping ropes, pull-ups, bar dips and running, was stressed heavily to the students. This program, though sometimes rigorous, benefitted the students by helping them achieve a healther physical state. The Physical Education teachers saw the motivation in the students when pre-class was stressed. "The coaches at Coral Park try to stress the importance of physical fitness and self-discipline to the students," stated Lloyd Parker, department chairman.

Business education courses prepare students for college and jobs

By Alicia Cordova

The business education department continues to be important in high school. "I think every student should take typing in school in preparation for the future," stated Mrs. Mae Chewning, department head. Students are realizing that these skills will be helpful for future careers in business and for assisting them in pursuing a college education.

Some courses offered such as accounting and bookkeeping classes dealt with the management of finances. Shorthand classes dealt with the development in dictation and transcribing mailable letters. Typing helped students to type term papers, proofread material, and secure part time jobs as well as learning how to deal with business transactions.

"Business education guarantees a good future if the skills are learned well," stated Mrs. Pepita Soto, business education teachers.

Visual art students demonstrate creativity in displaying their exhibitions

By Ana Inguanzo

The Industrial arts program explored the fields of graphic arts, metals, carpentry, printing, drafting, and arts and crafts. "Industrial and creative arts courses were specifically geared to fill the students' individual needs in that they could work at their own rate and receive satisfaction from what they produced," said Mr. Bill Mclean, wood craft instructor.

Advanced courses involved wood turning, finishing, and cabinet making. Many classes participated in the Dade County Youth Fair in March. The exhibitions were judged on neatness, quality of craftsmanship, originality, and total effect.

Arts and crafts fields were involved in many exhibitions featuring the best art from many different levels. They displayed their talent at Burdines in January for which they were awarded cash and scholastic awards.

Cooperative education gives opportunity to work and study at the same time

By Aimee Espinosa

Through the Cooperative Education program at Coral Park, students who felt they could learn more efficiently in the working world were given the opportunity to work and study at the same time. These students attended academic classes during the day, and received on-the-job training afterward.

"The various work programs at our school offer students a great opportunity to enter the world of work and to continue their education at the same time," stated Mr. John Bow, DCT teacher.

Whether they enter the competitive world of finance and work after graduation or decide to further their education by going to college, these students will always have these vital skills and knowledge accessible to them for a successful career or rewarding profession.

Media and activities specialists aid pupils with unique learning experiences

By Maria E. Cardenas

"In the media center our goal is to provide the best services possible for every student," commented Mrs. Ferry, head librarian. During the winter holiday season, the media specialists held their annual trim-a-tree contest in which homerooms made small books to decorate the library Christmas tree. During the months of December and January, the library held a read-a-thon to raise funds for the March of Dimes. Through a variety of services to the student body, the media specialists have proven to be irreplaceable.

The activities office serves as a student information center, in addition to sponsoring Halloween Happenings in October, Homecoming Week in November, Spirit Week, and a multitude of other functions. "Activities help students gain experience in the development of leadership and responsibility," remarked Miss Eads, activities director.

Clerical personnel work hard to keep all records current and accurate

By Sofie Vilar

Clerical personnel kept the attendance rolls, and processed all records of students registered at Coral Park. The treasurer controlled all of the school's financial transactions. Without these people working the school could not function.

The heart of the school is the registrar, Mrs. Penny Belcher and staff keeps all the students' records, schedules of all the classes, and keeps all grade records. "The placing of computer terminals in school gave personnel immediate access to stored information, and the ability to update all students' records," stated Mrs. Penny Belcher.

"There is never a dull moment in this department," concluded Mrs. Pat Doherty, attendance secretary. "There always is something to type, a student to talk with, and so many other things that have to be done."

New Balance running shoes are shaped on a unique straight last which actually enhances your running motion. Add soft tricot lined uppers, fully protective soles, beveled midsoles and flared heels, width sizing, and an instep saddle for longitudinal arch support and the elimination of to-the-toe lacing. The result is a line of running shoes made by runners for runners — including the 320, rated by Runner's World first among all training shoes

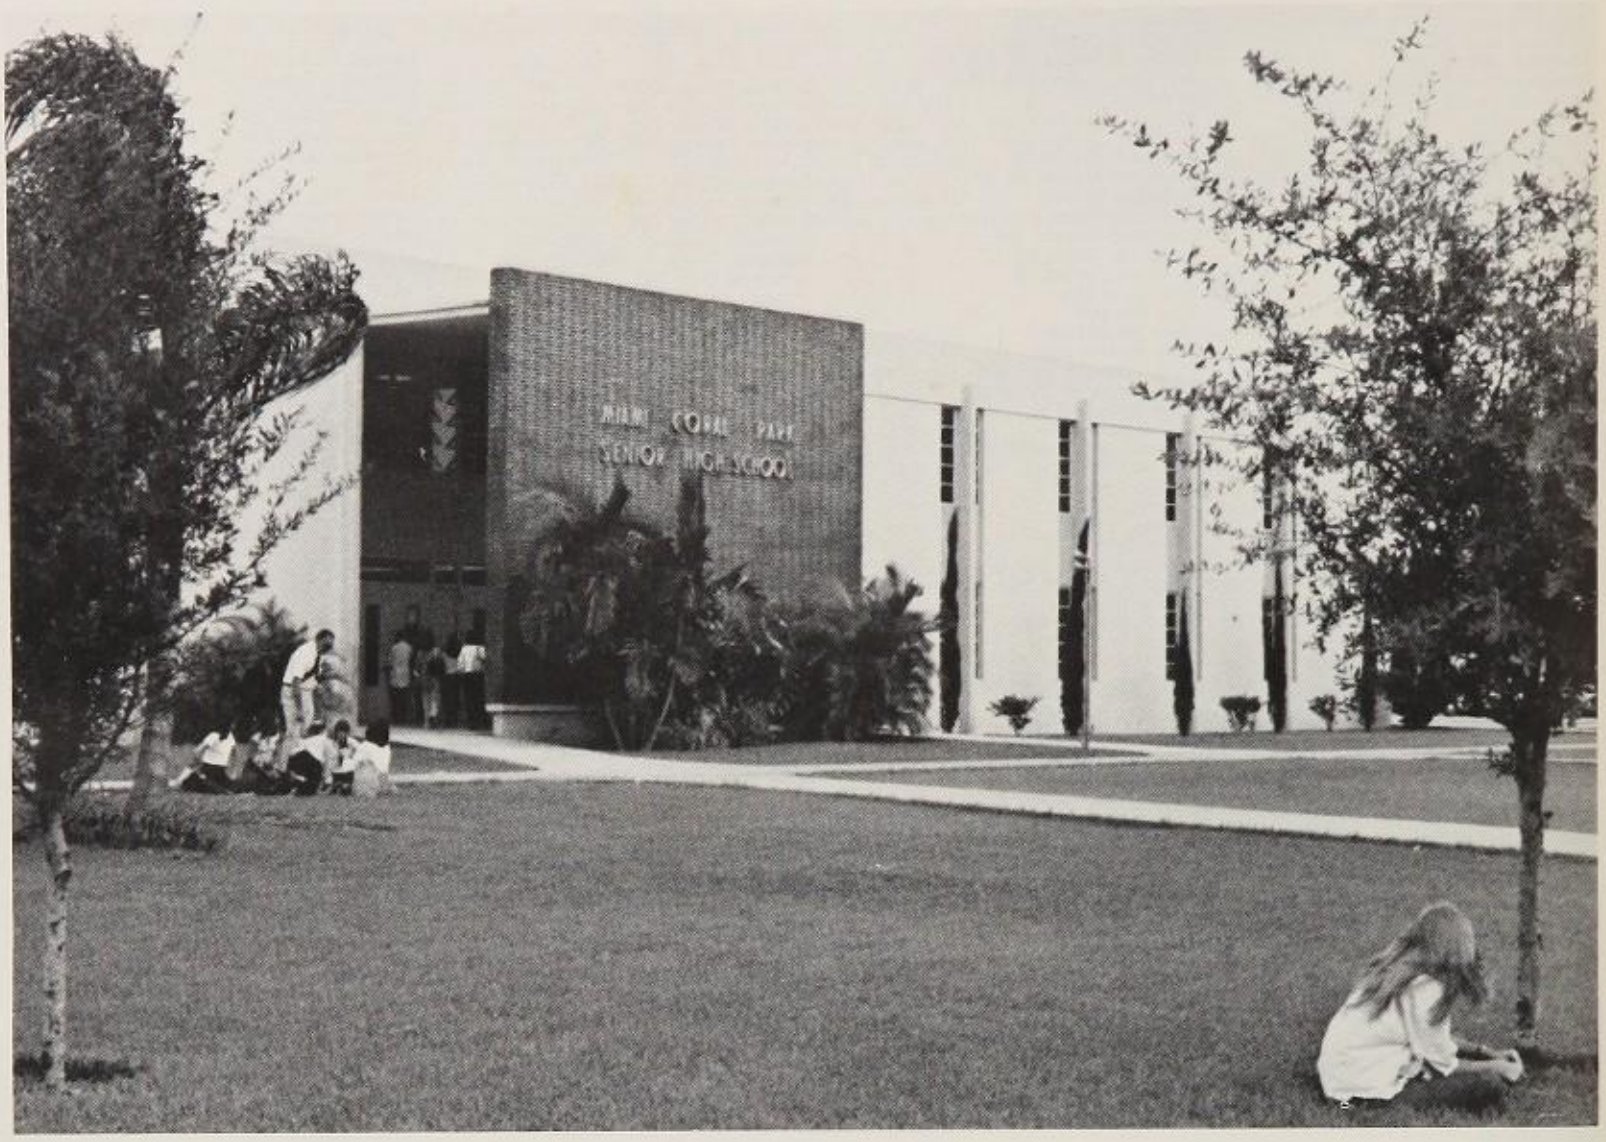
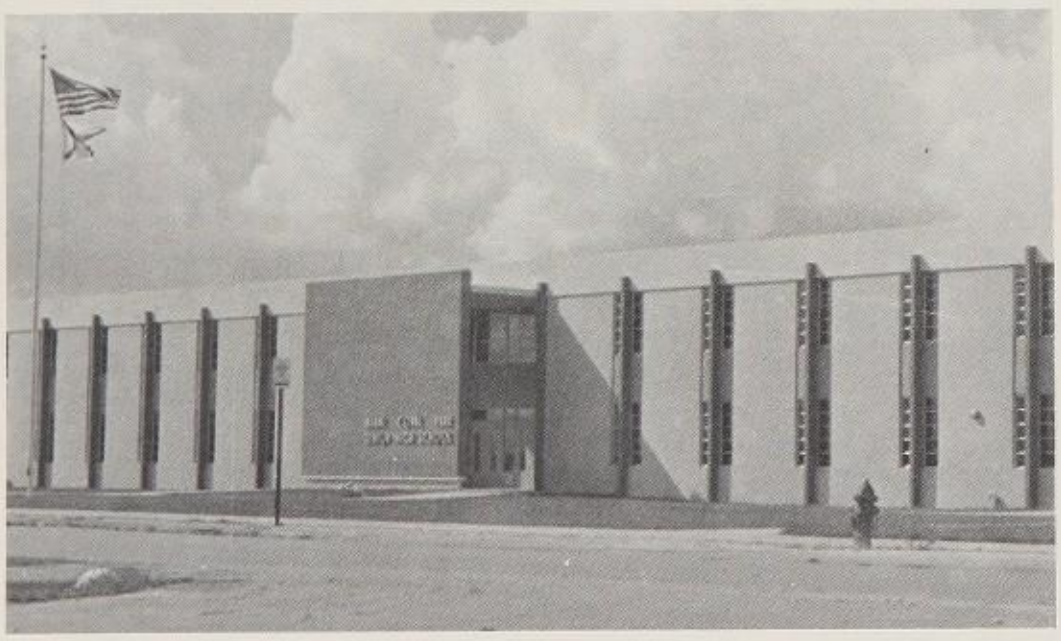
A Time to Finish





Coral Park. So we are caught in remembering for now. We see how it was and how it is. All we can do is keep on living, keep on feeling, keep on experiencing, and wait for another year in our lives. Time to leave.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

"A yearbook is complete with the efforts of many people. The whole staff must work together to achieve the best publication which we can achieve. I'd like to thank the people who helped us."

Jenny,

To a rather different kind of girl who I met this year. I want to thank you for making this year fun. Now come on Jen, we kid you alot but we're going to miss you. Take it light, and never get too busy that you forget to "kick back". Be good, and if you can't be good, be good at it. Love

Jorge

To: Jenny,
a very nice & sweet girl which is with me in Woodshop. Hope you stay as nice and friendly as you are.
Your friend,
Maria Fernandez

Jenny,

You were in my
math class in 11th grade
and you were pretty nice to me.
You are a nice and pretty girl and you better give me a real good goodby kiss!
Nice knowing ya and have a good life, hope you marry a nice guy then divorce and marry me, your Honey, Babycakes. Hit the beath this summer, and wear shorts to turn me on! Love ya your

To Jenny,

To a sweet-weird-I definitely weird - I'm not sure about sweet NANA) that I hope passes her senior year. Thanks for all the times you've got me out of Art 3 pd. because you uses your power of working in the office. Hope I see you again after school is out because as much as I kid with you (I'm always joking) I'm really gunna miss ya.

Your friend,

Vicki

P.S. Don't forget Mrs. Bitch Lane 3RD pd. for sewing because she ripped us off & couldn't stay in Home Ec. Vicki

Jenny, Hey Steve had our differences in the past, but I'm glad that's over with now. I wish you clear sailing in the future and good luck yourself and Lake

Love ya
Skidder

Jenny, I got to meet you this year & I'm glad I did because you're really nice. And please do have a fantastic summer. And may all your wish become true.

Love, Linda Ray

Dear Pal,

It's hard to say goodbye, but I hope it's not goodbye. We've gotten along very well these 3 years. Us and our drugs have made us very close and (happy). We've had a lot of good times in English and Math and other places. I hope you get everything in life. I'm sure we'll be seeing eachother, at the beach etc. (Trail Boys) Control yourself, I don't want you getting hurt.

Have a fantastic summer.

Love always
Billy.

P.S. You my playgirl fantasy woman.
You drive me ____

Jenny.

It has been a real pleasure being your friend this year. Youre really a great girl and Government wouldn't be the same without you. And your hair does look good. Have a blast in the summer and be good in whatever you decide to do.

Love, Jeff

Dear Jenny,

A long year has passed and knowing you has been a pleasure. In you I have met an interesting person in my life. You are a unique and liberal character. People like you are not hypocrites and I admire you for that. I wish you sincere luck in your future plans in every area. Good luck

Paul

Jenny

I can say that this year has been truly unique. In government the only thing I'm going to miss will be the fact to face every morning your hair. You don't to far from me so don't stranger. 221-6698 me a call if you want "yearly".

Love, Mike "B" Taylor

And I would hope in time you would be able to look back on your days here as a unique experience and look back on your decision to go to Washington as a good one.

Love, Lisette

Jenny

Let me say, its been my pleasure to make your acquaintance this year. We've really had some good times together and I hope we reminisce every now and then. Wish you the best of luck in the Summer and in the Fall (wherever you may be going). Take care and keep in touch

Love
Pat

Jenny.

We go back a long time Jenny, and have had our ups and downs. What can I tell you, we have a lot of memories ~~together~~. You have always been there when I've needed you and I hope I've always been there too. I remember we had our ~~little~~ differences in our junior year, and I know I'm partly to blame - but you have to understand that I really didn't know ~~what~~ was going on with you. I don't have to say goodbye because it is not necessary - I mean I will be seeing you in the summer! In fact, in fact. Have a fantastic summer and enjoy your new job as a "Contact Lens Technician". (think you're good huh)
